The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges & any other leafy vegetation are regulated to:
  - Promote driver and pedestrian safety by ensuring no obstructions in the public way
  - Maintain an interesting, pedestrian friendly streetscape

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges can be up to 3 ft tall and leafy vegetation cannot obstruct view within 3 feet of front yards or side yards
- This proposal also limits height following the same 20 ft. measurements for corner lots as Section 235-25.K

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.
5. Community Engagement. Promote an understanding of the role that housing plays in Melrose and the region through ongoing public engagement and discussion.

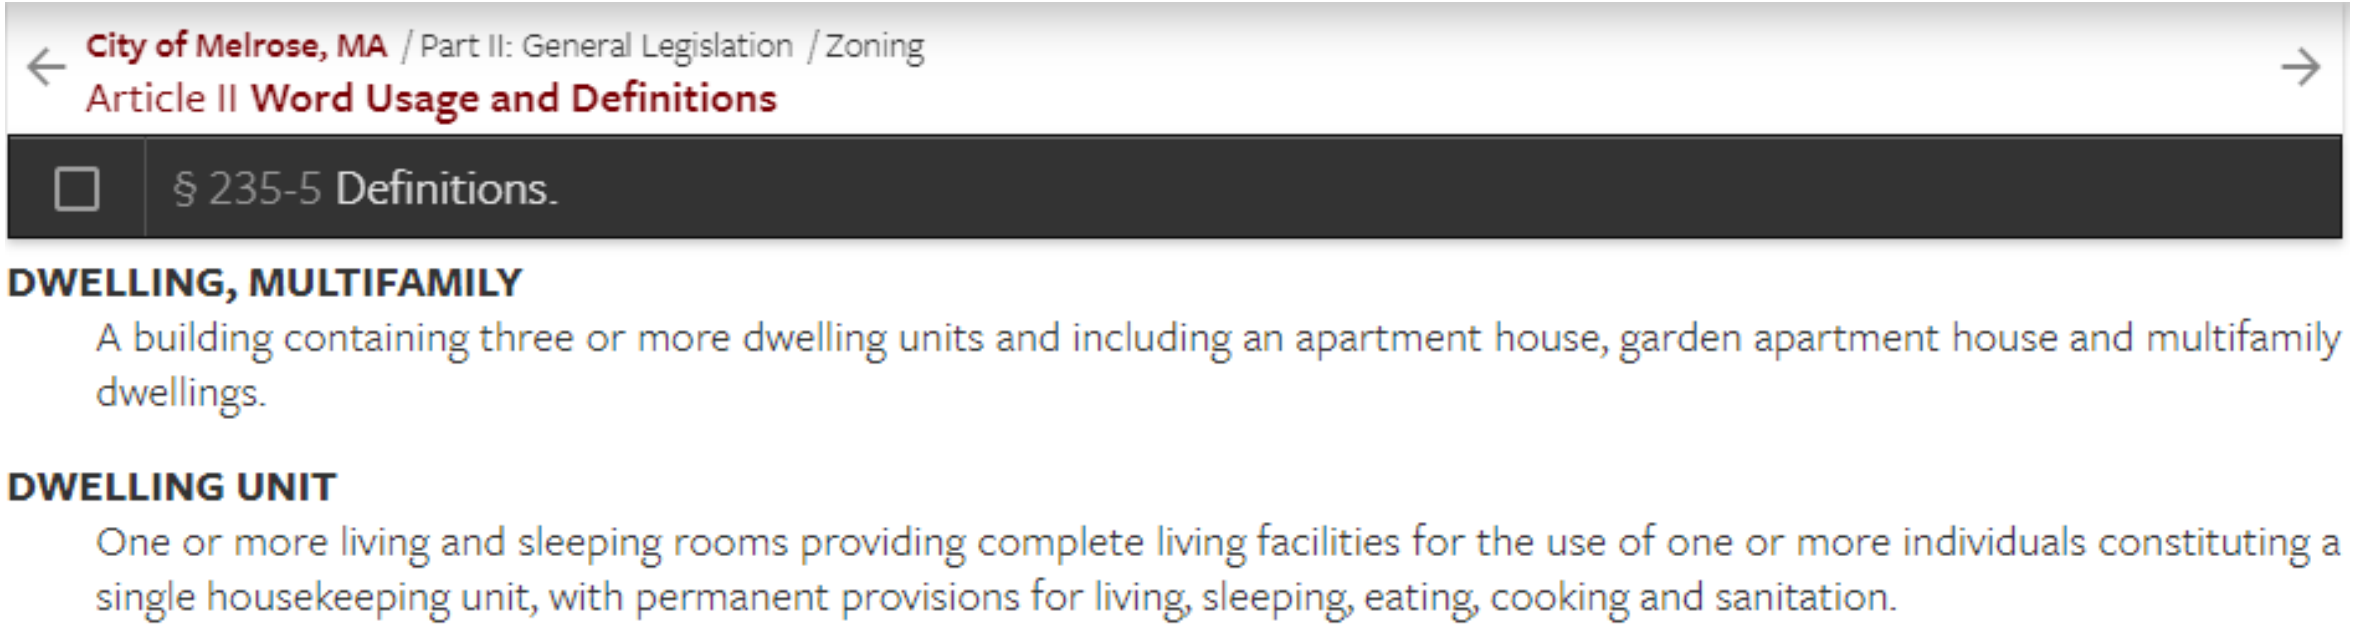
Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition



- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Changing the Ordinance to allow for side yard setbacks will remove the need for many cases to obtain a Variance for corner lot setback relief. Since 2017, 38 cases have been brought before the Board of Appeals for variances related to a hardship imposed by the corner lot setback requirements. Removing the need for this permit reduces the Owners' administrative work, uncertainty, cost and extended permitting time that is associated with construction on corner lots. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Special Permit Approval & Term
Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

Structure Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 STRUCTURE Definition

Structure Definition

- The Zoning Ordinance currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures triggering accessory building/structure setback requirements per Section 235-24.B unless exempted by variance

ACCESSORY BUILDINGS AND OTHER STRUCTURES DIMENSIONAL REGULATION

District	Maximum Coverage (percent of required rear yard area)[1]	Distance From Lot Line (feet)		Building Heig (feet)
		Front	Side and Rear
SR	25%	20	10	20
SR-A	25%	20	10	20
SR-B	40%	15	10	20
UR-A	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-B	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-C	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-D	50%	15	4[2]	20

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Structure Definition

- Retaining walls & fences are often on or close to a property line and it was likely not the intent of the regulation for setbacks to apply
- Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

Proposal: Amend Section 235-8 Changes to map

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

- 521-529 Franklin St. is split into two zoning districts: BA-2 and URA
- The split zoning complicates refinancing and insuring this property
- The best use of this property is in line with uses permitted in the BA-2

Retail Food Establishment Definition

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

- The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments where all other provisions are met
- This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Pan

Housing

Recommendations

Goal 1: Encourage the creation of housing units that are affordable to a broad range of incomes.

Strategy 1.1: Promote regulations that permit a variety of residential types, ensuring Melrose residents of all ages and incomes can remain in Melrose.

Proposal: Amend Section 235-16.1.E(5) Site Plan Approval

Site Plan Approval Criteria

- In relation to Section 235-25.K & -25.L, in districts where no setback from the property line is required, attention should be given to the safety of travel around corner sites during the Site Plan Review process

SECTION §235-16.1.E(5)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Proposal: Amend General Code to include vegetation height and shift enforcement from Building Inspector to Department of Public Works

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

§ 235-25 Additional dimensional and density provisions.

I. The gross floor area of each one-family detached dwelling and per dwelling unit in a two-family dwelling shall not be less than 768 square feet. The gross floor area in a multifamily dwelling shall not be less than 450 square feet for one-bedroom dwelling units, 600 square feet for two-bedroom units and 768 square feet for three-bedroom or larger units.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.
5. Community Engagement. Promote an understanding of the role that housing plays in Melrose and the region through ongoing public engagement and discussion.

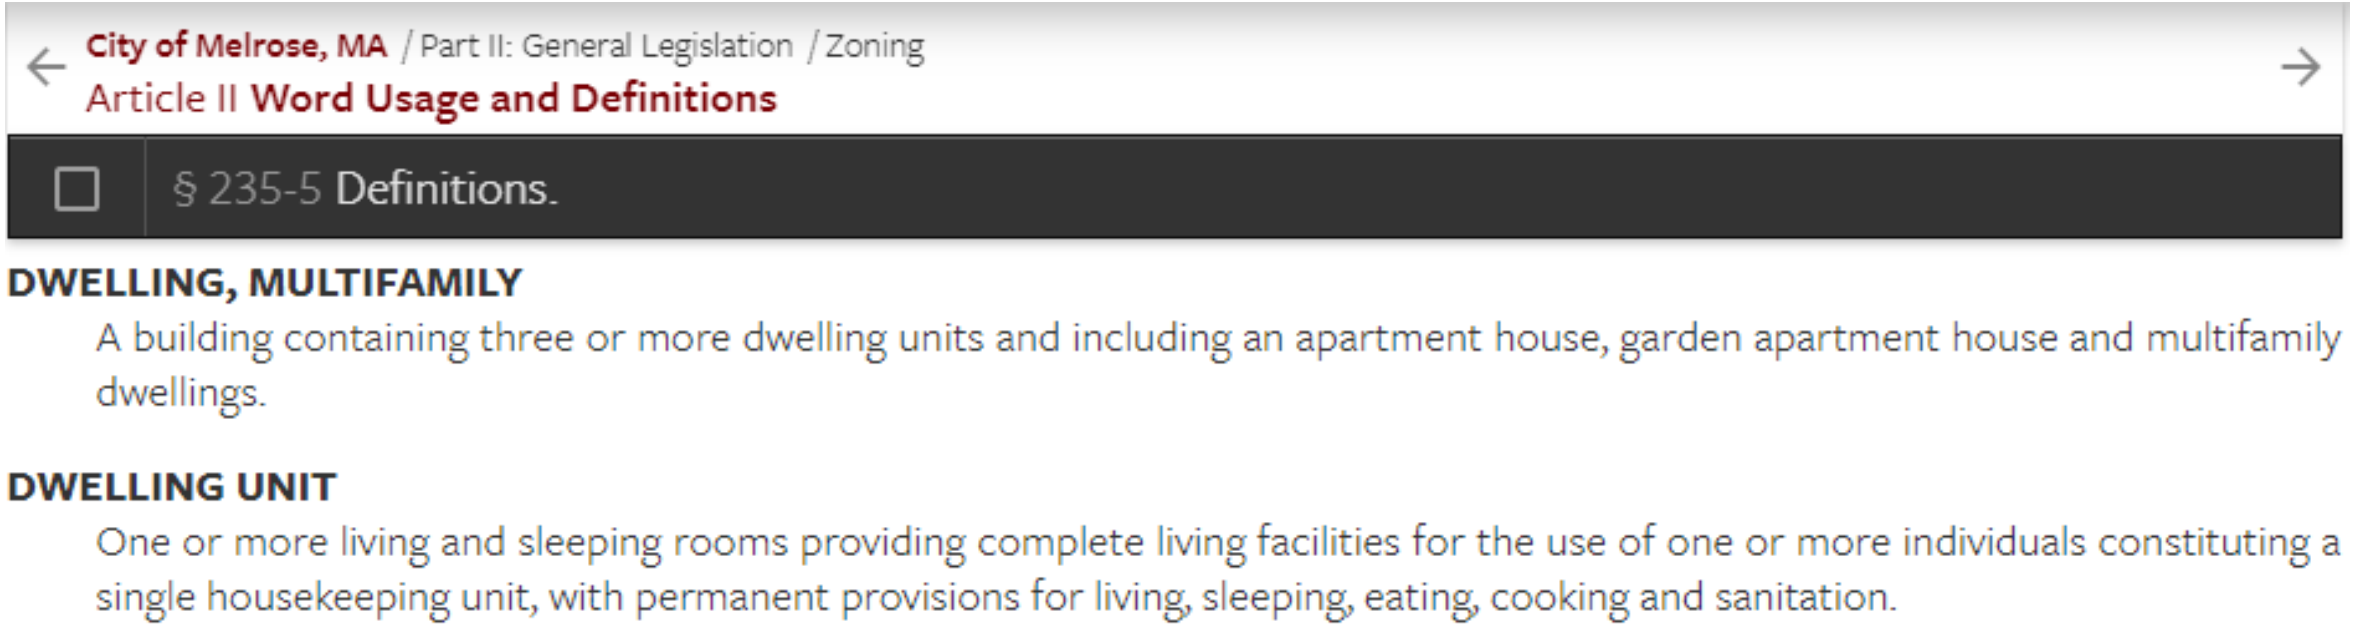
Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition



- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

In-law Apartment Definition

- The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments where all other provisions are met
- This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Pan

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Proposal: Amend General Code to include vegetation height and shift enforcement from Building Inspector to Department of Public Works

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.
5. Community Engagement. Promote an understanding of the role that housing plays in Melrose and the region through ongoing public engagement and discussion.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

If you have any further questions, or we can provide any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us. We would be pleased to make ourselves available to you as you continue to deliberate on this issue.

Very truly yours,

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Structure Definition

- Retaining walls & fences are often on or close to a property line and it was likely not the intent of the regulation for setbacks to apply
- Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

- The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments where all other provisions are met
- This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Pan

Housing

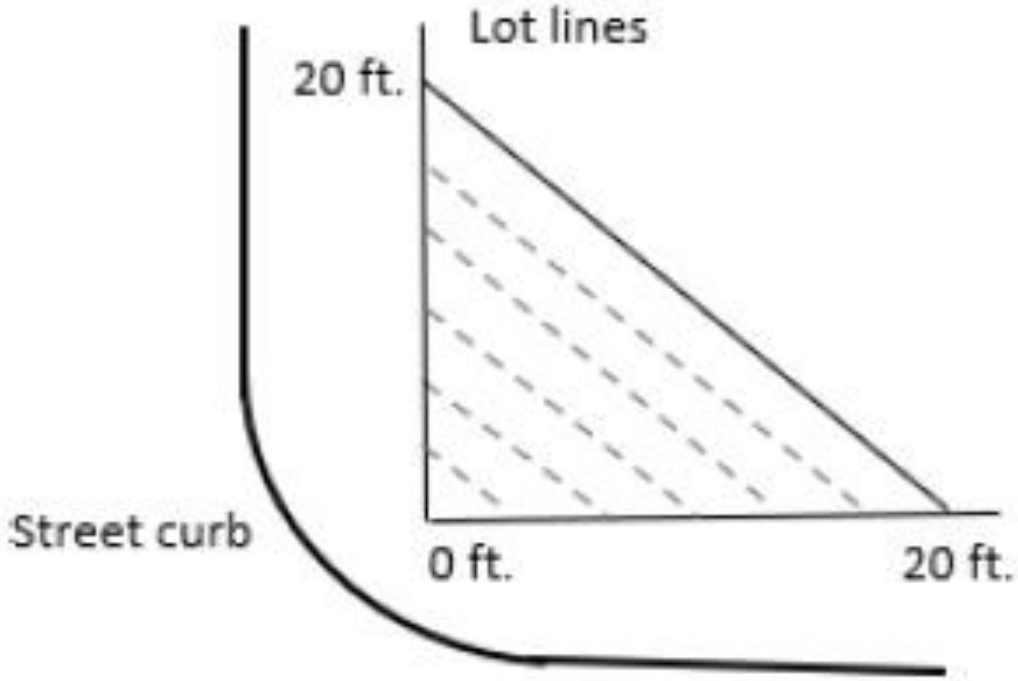
Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner and Non-Corner Lots

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.K and 235-25.L



Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner and Non-Corner Lots

- OPCD has received requests from the public and elected officials to clarify Sections 235-25.K &-25.L of the code which are confusing and easily misinterpreted
- The purpose of these regulations is to ensure visibility and safety by regulating the height of fences and other structures on corner lots and in front yards and to maintain an interesting streetscape

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

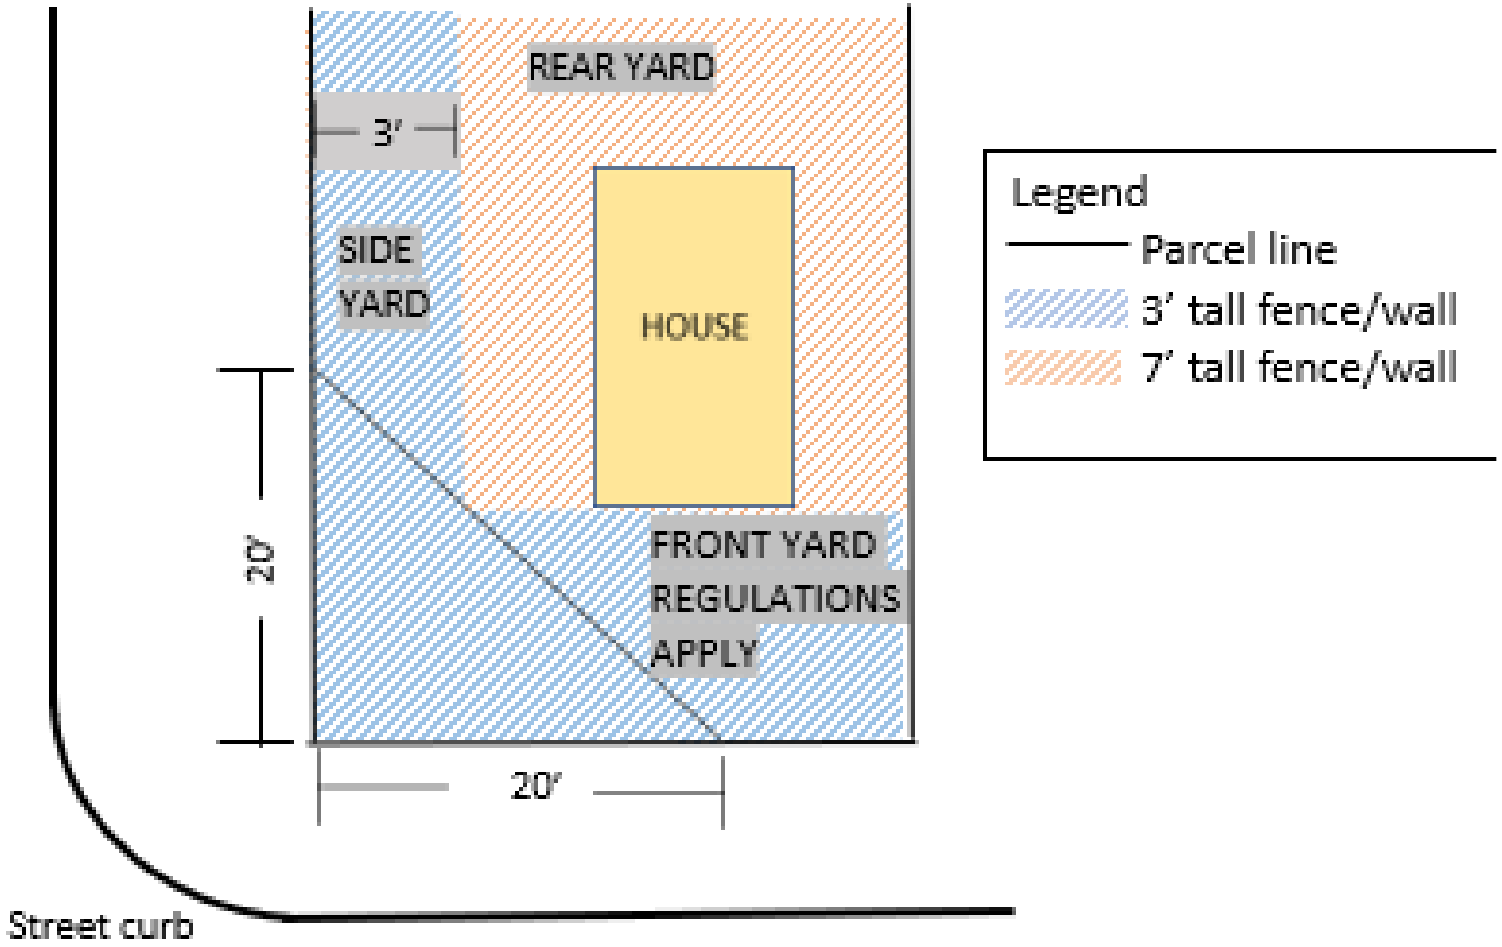
Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner Lots



- The proposed measurements were carefully selected based on the existing code, codes in other cities and towns, traffic safety regulations, and a setback analysis conducted by OPCD Staff

Proposal: Amend Section 235-16.1.E(5) Site Plan Approval

Site Plan Approval Criteria

- In relation to Section 235-25.K & -25.L, in districts where no setback from the property line is required, attention should be given to the safety of travel around corner sites during the Site Plan Review process

SECTION §235-16.1.E(5)

E.5 Convenience and safety of vehicular and pedestrian movement within and around the site and ~~of~~ the location of buildings, fences, walls, or other structures, and driveway openings, in relation to traffic and/or adjacent streets.

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Proposal: Amend General Code to include vegetation height and shift enforcement from Building Inspector to Department of Public Works

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

§ 235-5 Definitions.

FAMILY

An individual or two or more persons related by blood or marriage living together as a single housekeeping unit and includi necessary domestic help, such as nurses or servants, and further including, provided that the dwelling is owner-occupied, n more than three lodgers or roomers taken for hire. A group of individuals (including necessary domestic help, such as nurs or servants, but excluding lodgers or roomers taken for hire) not related by blood or marriage but living together as a sing housekeeping unit may constitute a family. For purposes of controlling residential density, each such group of four individua shall constitute a single family.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

DWELLING UNIT

One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

Year	Number of Related Variance Cases	% ZBA Approved
2017	1	100%
2018	6	83%*
2019	10	100%
2020	8	75%
2021	12	83%

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 STRUCTURE Definition

Structure Definition

- The Zoning Ordinance currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures triggering accessory building/structure setback requirements per Section 235-24.B unless exempted by variance

ACCESSORY BUILDINGS AND OTHER STRUCTURES DIMENSIONAL REGULATION

District	Maximum Coverage (percent of required rear yard area)[1]	Distance From Lot Line (feet)		Building Heig (feet)
		Front	Side and Rear
SR	25%	20	10	20
SR-A	25%	20	10	20
SR-B	40%	15	10	20
UR-A	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-B	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-C	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-D	50%	15	4[2]	20

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Structure Definition

- Retaining walls & fences are often on or close to a property line and it was likely not the intent of the regulation for setbacks to apply
- Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

Proposal: Amend Section 235-8 Changes to map

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

- 521-529 Franklin St. is split into two zoning districts: BA-2 and URA
- The split zoning complicates refinancing and insuring this property
- The best use of this property is in line with uses permitted in the BA-2

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Retail Food Establishment Definition

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

- The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments where all other provisions are met
- This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Pan

Housing

Recommendations

Goal 1: Encourage the creation of housing units that are affordable to a broad range of incomes.

Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner and Non-Corner Lots

- OPCD has received requests from the public and elected officials to clarify Sections 235-25.K &-25.L of the code which are confusing and easily misinterpreted

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

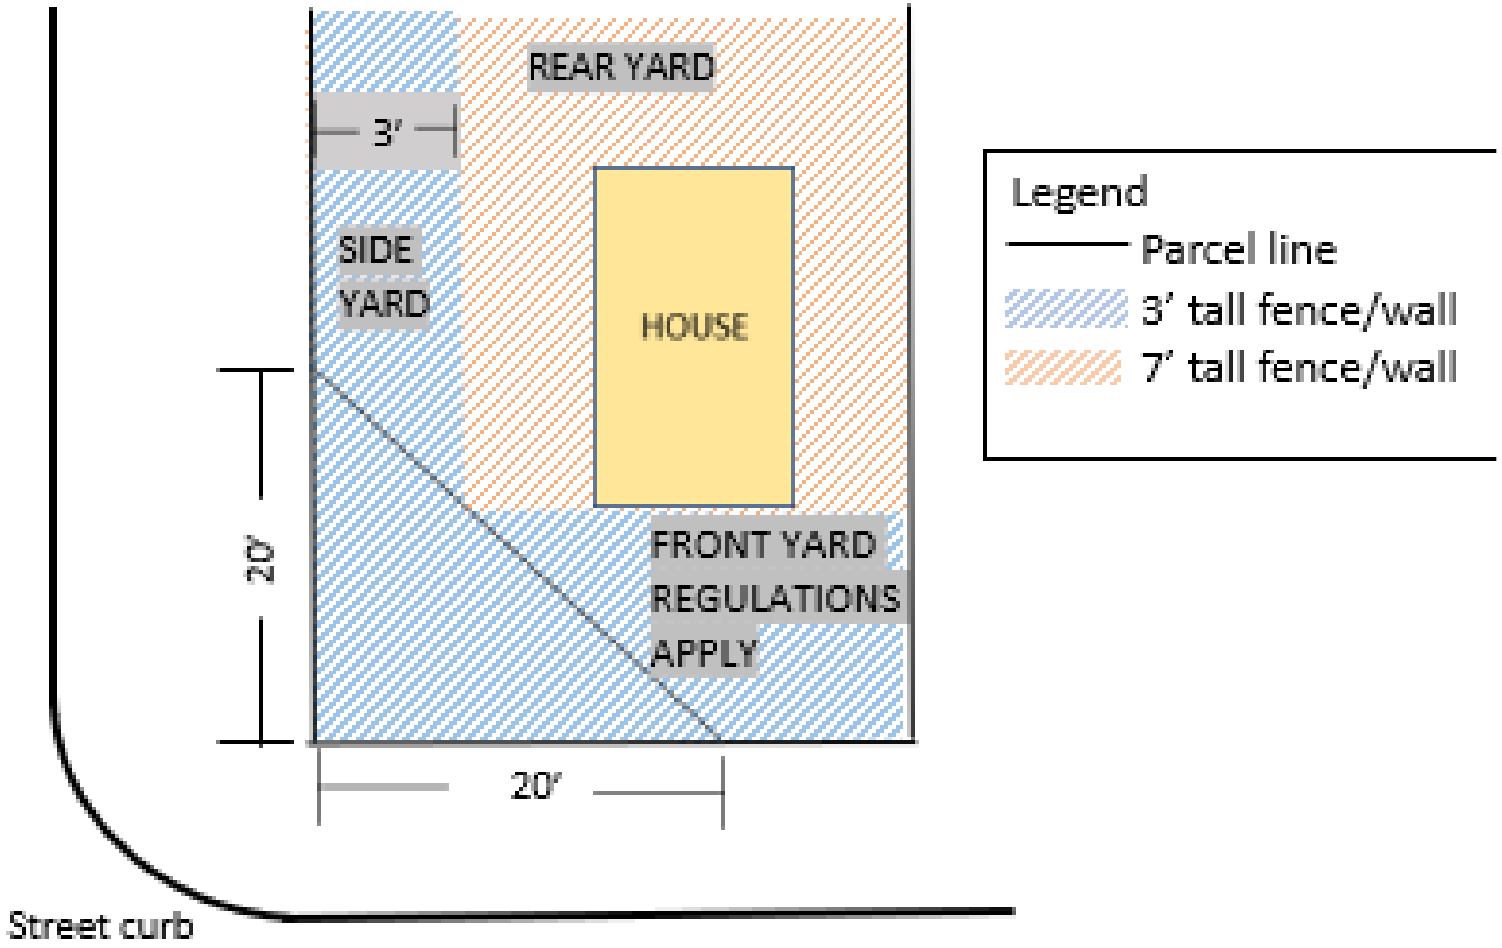
Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner Lots



- The proposed measurements were carefully selected based on the existing code, codes in other cities and towns, traffic safety regulations, and a setback analysis conducted by OPCD Staff
- The amendment proposes that within a triangular area formed by measuring 20 ft. from the intersection of the property lot lines, a structure cannot exceed 3 ft. in height

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner Lots

- Beyond the triangular area
  - In the side yard structures may be taller if they are setback 3 ft. from the property line

Site Plan Approval Criteria

- In relation to Section 235-25.K & -25.L, in districts where no setback from the property line is required, attention should be given to the safety of travel around corner sites during the Site Plan Review process

SECTION §235-16.1.E(5)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Proposal: Amend General Code to include vegetation height and shift enforcement from Building Inspector to Department of Public Works

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

City of Melrose, MA / Part II: General Legislation / Zoning

Article VI Dimensional and Density Regulations

§ 235-25 Additional dimensional and density provisions.

I. The gross floor area of each one-family detached dwelling and per dwelling unit in a two-family dwelling shall not be less than 768 square feet. The gross floor area in a multifamily dwelling shall not be less than 450 square feet for one-bedroom dwelling units, 600 square feet for two-bedroom units and 768 square feet for three-bedroom or larger units.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.
5. Community Engagement. Promote an understanding of the role that housing plays in Melrose and the region through ongoing public engagement and discussion.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

DWELLING UNIT

One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

If you have any further questions, or we can provide any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us. We would be pleased to make ourselves available to you as you continue to deliberate on this issue.

Very truly yours,

Gregory Sampson

The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

Structure Definition

- Retaining walls & fences are often on or close to a property line and it was likely not the intent of the regulation for setbacks to apply
- Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

- The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments where all other provisions are met
- This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Pan

Housing

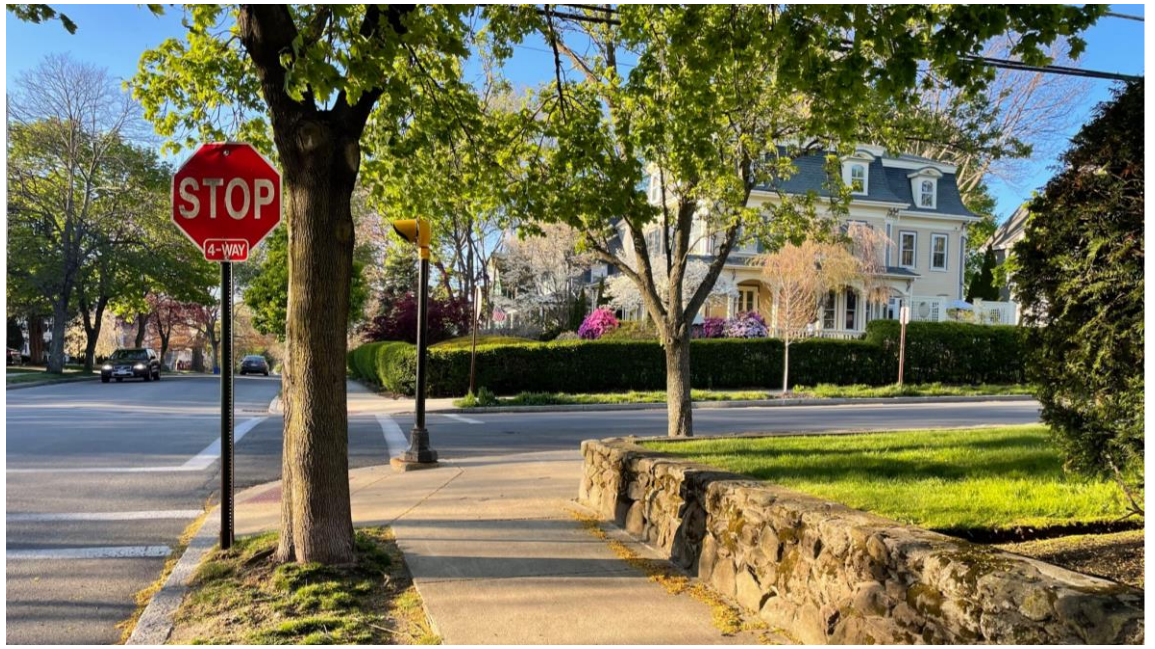
Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets



Proposal: Amend General Code to include vegetation height and shift enforcement from Building Inspector to Department of Public Works

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges & any other leafy vegetation are regulated to:
  - Promote driver and pedestrian safety by ensuring no obstructions in the public way
  - Maintain an interesting, pedestrian friendly streetscape

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges can be up to 3 ft tall and leafy vegetation cannot obstruct view within 3 feet of front yards or side yards
- This proposal also limits height following the same 20 ft. measurements for corner lots as Section 235-25.K

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.
5. Community Engagement. Promote an understanding of the role that housing plays in Melrose and the region through ongoing public engagement and discussion.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

DWELLING UNIT

One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

ORDER-2023-85 : Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Definition of In-law Apartment

ORDER-2023-90 : Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Definition of Family & Dwelling Units

I recently attended a seminar in which one of the topics was short term rentals, in-law apartments and accessory dwellings as it relates to code enforcement. I have attached five images to this email which contain additional information. The presenter was a zoning enforcement officer for the City of Watertown.

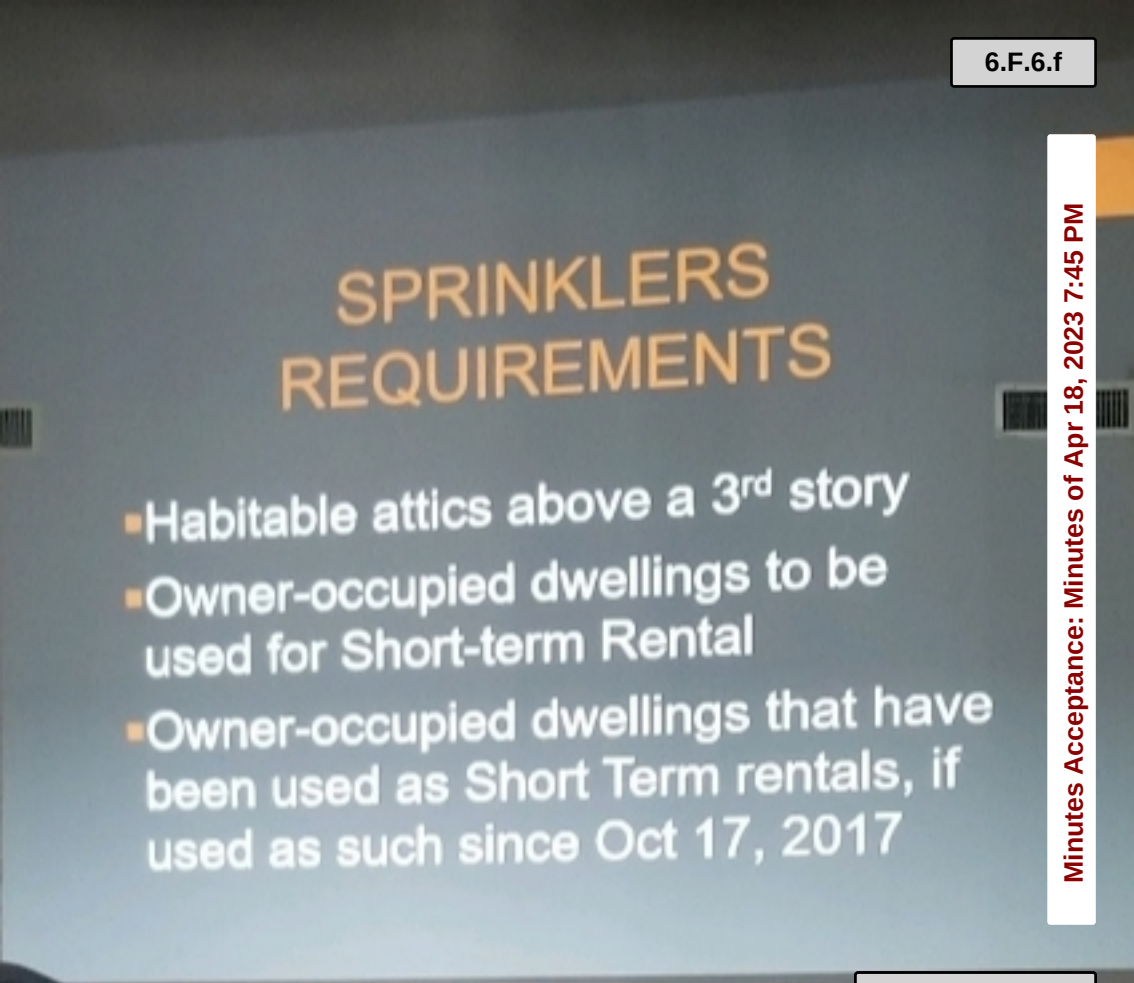
After his presentation, I asked him how the family occupancy requirement is enforced for in-law apartments. His response was that it is impossible to do so. Further, that in-law apartments are frequently used by single family home owners as short term rentals. A quick search on the Airbnb website appears to indicate that this is presently taking place in Melrose.

As you will see in the attached images, Massachusetts Building Code (780 CMR) requires that owner-occupied dwellings that will be used as short term rentals, or that have been used as short term rentals since October 17, 2017, must be sprinkled. I would suggest that we have violators who need to be brought into compliance before the rules are relaxed further.

How are we presently regulating short term rentals in Melrose? I looked on the City's website to see what Inspectional Services had but found nothing. That would seem to indicate that such units are illegal apartments. The Commonwealth allows municipalities to tax short term rentals and, as such, we are missing out an additional revenue stream.

I hope that this information will spark a robust conversation about how our City will address such concerns moving forward. The creation of new code and enforcement of existing will be necessary to ensure that the citizens of this City are best served. I encourage you to include the Building Commissioner in the dialogue.

I watched the last meeting when this was before Appropriations and was distressed by Ms. Gaffey's assertion that the order ought to pass because there had been no public opposition to it. A lack of public participation is not evidence of tacit approval--we elect you to represent us and our best interests. If public opposition is the standard by which you are to approve or reject such measures, here is your public opposition.



Thank you for your consideration and service to our community.

GREGORY SAMPSON
Chair

January 31, 2023

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Structure Definition

- Retaining walls & fences are often on or close to a property line and it was likely not the intent of the regulation for setbacks to apply
- Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner and Non-Corner Lots

- OPCD has received requests from the public and elected officials to clarify Sections 235-25.K &-25.L of the code which are confusing and easily misinterpreted

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation

City of Melrose, MA / Part II: General Legislation / Zoning

Article VI Dimensional and Density Regulations

§ 235-25 Additional dimensional and density provisions.

I. The gross floor area of each one-family detached dwelling and per dwelling unit in a two-family dwelling shall not be less than 768 square feet. The gross floor area in a multifamily dwelling shall not be less than 450 square feet for one-bedroom dwelling units, 600 square feet for two-bedroom units and 768 square feet for three-bedroom or larger units.

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

DWELLING UNIT

One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

Year	Number of Related Variance Cases	% ZBA Approved
2017	1	100%
2018	6	83%*
2019	10	100%

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 STRUCTURE Definition

Structure Definition

- The Zoning Ordinance currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures triggering accessory building/structure setback requirements per Section 235-24.B unless exempted by variance

ACCESSORY BUILDINGS AND OTHER STRUCTURES DIMENSIONAL REGULATION

District	Maximum Coverage (percent of required rear yard area)[1]	Distance From Lot Line (feet)		Building Heig (feet)
		Front	Side and Rear
SR	25%	20	10	20
SR-A	25%	20	10	20
SR-B	40%	15	10	20
UR-A	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-B	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-C	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-D	50%	15	4[2]	20

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Structure Definition

- Retaining walls & fences are often on or close to a property line and it was likely not the intent of the regulation for setbacks to apply
- Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

Proposal: Amend Section 235-8 Changes to map

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

- 521-529 Franklin St. is split into two zoning districts: BA-2 and URA
- The split zoning complicates refinancing and insuring this property
- The best use of this property is in line with uses permitted in the BA-2

Retail Food Establishment Definition

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

- The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments where all other provisions are met
- This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Pan

Housing

Recommendations

Goal 1: Encourage the creation of housing units that are affordable to a broad range of incomes.

Strategy 1.1: Promote regulations that permit a variety of residential types, ensuring Melrose residents of all ages and incomes can remain in Melrose.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner and Non-Corner Lots

- OPCD has received requests from the public and elected officials to clarify Sections 235-25.K &-25.L of the code which are confusing and easily misinterpreted

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

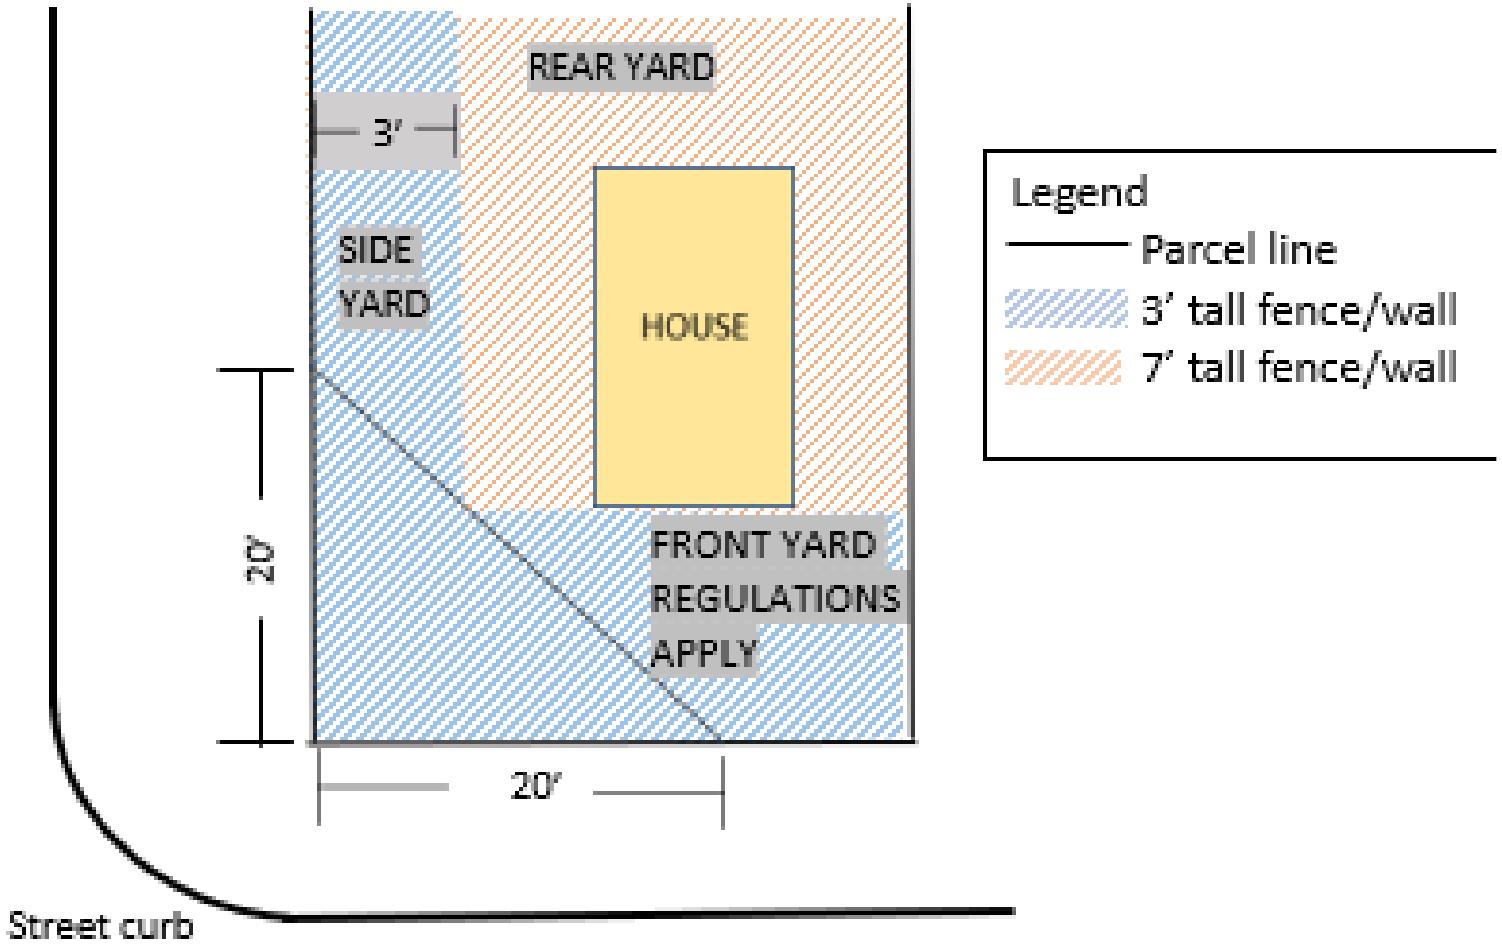
Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner Lots



- The proposed measurements were carefully selected based on the existing code, codes in other cities and towns, traffic safety regulations, and a setback analysis conducted by OPCD Staff
- The amendment proposes that within a triangular area formed by measuring 20 ft. from the intersection of the property lot lines, a structure cannot exceed 3 ft. in height

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner Lots

- Beyond the triangular area
  - In the side yard structures may be taller if they are setback 3 ft. from the property line
  - In the front yard structures follow the front yard regulations

Site Plan Approval Criteria

- In relation to Section 235-25.K & -25.L, in districts where no setback from the property line is required, attention should be given to the safety of travel around corner sites during the Site Plan Review process

SECTION §235-16.1.E(5)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Proposal: Amend General Code to include vegetation height and shift enforcement from Building Inspector to Department of Public Works

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges & any other leafy vegetation are regulated to:
  - Promote driver and pedestrian safety by ensuring no obstructions in the public way
  - Maintain an interesting, pedestrian friendly streetscape

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges can be up to 3 ft tall and leafy vegetation cannot obstruct view within 3 feet of front yards or side yards
- This proposal also limits height following the same 20 ft. measurements for corner lots as Section 235-25.K

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

§ 235-25 Additional dimensional and density provisions.

I. The gross floor area of each one-family detached dwelling and per dwelling unit in a two-family dwelling shall not be less than 768 square feet. The gross floor area in a multifamily dwelling shall not be less than 450 square feet for one-bedroom dwelling units, 600 square feet for two-bedroom units and 768 square feet for three-bedroom or larger units.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.
5. Community Engagement. Promote an understanding of the role that housing plays in Melrose and the region through ongoing public engagement and discussion.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

DWELLING UNIT

One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

If you have any further questions, or we can provide any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us. We would be pleased to make ourselves available to you as you continue to deliberate on this issue.

Very truly yours,

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

Proposal: Amend Section 235-16.1.E(5) Site Plan Approval

Site Plan Approval Criteria

- In relation to Section 235-25.K & -25.L, in districts where no setback from the property line is required, attention should be given to the safety of travel around corner sites during the Site Plan Review process

SECTION §235-16.1.E(5)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Proposal: Amend General Code to include vegetation height and shift enforcement from Building Inspector to Department of Public Works

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges & any other leafy vegetation are regulated to:
  - Promote driver and pedestrian safety by ensuring no obstructions in the public way
  - Maintain an interesting, pedestrian friendly streetscape

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges can be up to 3 ft tall and leafy vegetation cannot obstruct view within 3 feet of front yards or side yards
- This proposal also limits height following the same 20 ft. measurements for corner lots as Section 235-25.K

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.
5. Community Engagement. Promote an understanding of the role that housing plays in Melrose and the region through ongoing public engagement and discussion.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

DWELLING UNIT

One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

GREGORY SAMPSON
Chair

January 31, 2023

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

Corner Lot Setbacks

Proposal: Amend Sections 235-5 LOT,CORNER and LOT LINE, REAR Definitions & 235-25.C, Additional dimensional and density provisions relating to corner lots

Corner Lot Setbacks

- This amendment allows properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets
- In the Planning Board's review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or abutting properties
- Two yards often function as side yards and changing the ordinance allows the Owner to build a structure consistent with the use of the yard
- Removing the need for a Variance eliminates a hardship for the Owner
- Identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan

Year	Number of Related Variance Cases	% ZBA Approved
2017	1	100%
2018	6	83%*
2019	10	100%

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 STRUCTURE Definition

Structure Definition

- The Zoning Ordinance currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures triggering accessory building/structure setback requirements per Section 235-24.B unless exempted by variance

ACCESSORY BUILDINGS AND OTHER STRUCTURES DIMENSIONAL REGULATION

District	Maximum Coverage (percent of required rear yard area)[1]	Distance From Lot Line (feet)		Building Heig (feet)
		Front	Side and Rear
SR	25%	20	10	20
SR-A	25%	20	10	20
SR-B	40%	15	10	20
UR-A	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-B	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-C	50%	15	4[2]	20
UR-D	50%	15	4[2]	20

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Structure Definition

- Retaining walls & fences are often on or close to a property line and it was likely not the intent of the regulation for setbacks to apply
- Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

Proposal: Amend Section 235-8 Changes to map

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.

- 521-529 Franklin St. is split into two zoning districts: BA-2 and URA
- The split zoning complicates refinancing and insuring this property
- The best use of this property is in line with uses permitted in the BA-2

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Retail Food Establishment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 RETAIL FOOD ESTABLISHMENT Definition

Retail Food Establishment Definition

- This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption in line with the City's new liquor laws

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

In-law Apartment Definition

- The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments where all other provisions are met
- This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Pan

Housing

Recommendations

Goal 1: Encourage the creation of housing units that are affordable to a broad range of incomes.

Strategy 1.1: Promote regulations that permit a variety of residential types, ensuring Melrose residents of all ages and incomes can remain in Melrose.

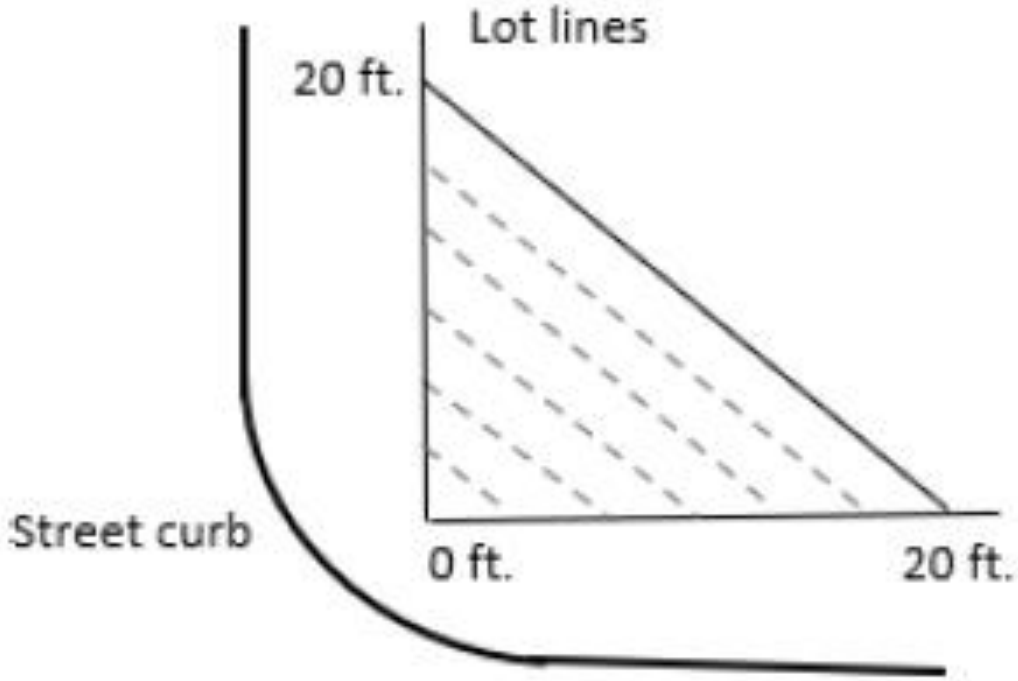
Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner and Non-Corner Lots

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.K and 235-25.L



Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner and Non-Corner Lots

- OPCD has received requests from the public and elected officials to clarify Sections 235-25.K &-25.L of the code which are confusing and easily misinterpreted
- The purpose of these regulations is to ensure visibility and safety by regulating the height of fences and other structures on corner lots and in front yards and to maintain an interesting streetscape

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

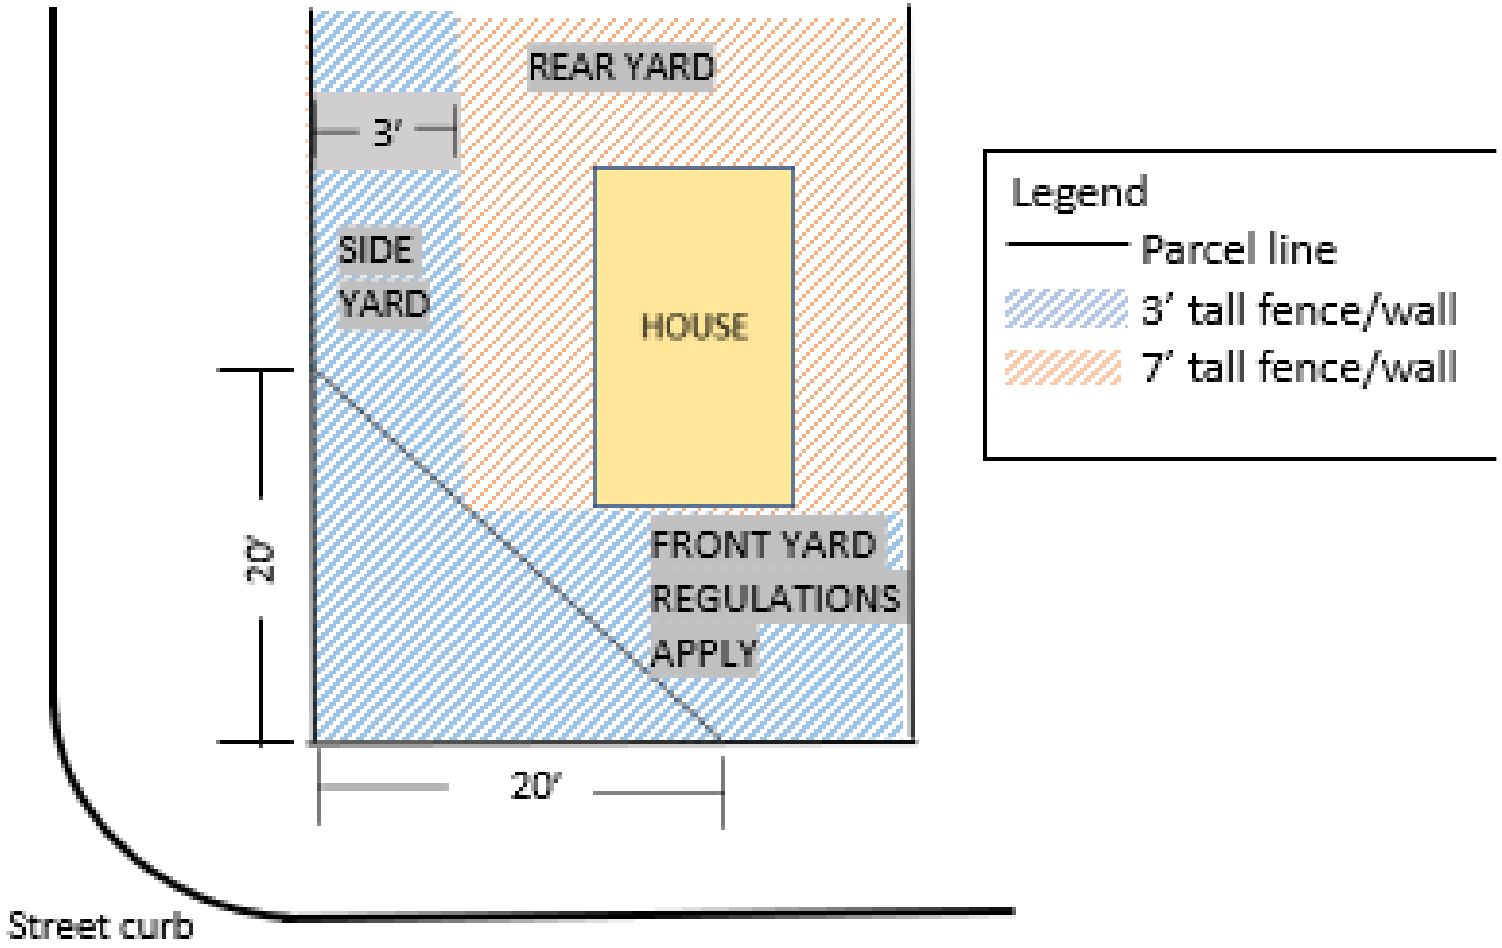
Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner Lots



- The proposed measurements were carefully selected based on the existing code, codes in other cities and towns, traffic safety regulations, and a setback analysis conducted by OPCD Staff
- The amendment proposes that within a triangular area formed by measuring 20 ft. from the intersection of the property lot lines, a structure cannot exceed 3 ft. in height

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner Lots

- Beyond the triangular area
  - In the side yard structures may be taller if they are setback 3 ft. from the property line

Site Plan Review Criteria

Proposal: Amend Section 235-16.1.E(5) Site Plan Approval

Site Plan Approval Criteria

- In relation to Section 235-25.K & -25.L, in districts where no setback from the property line is required, attention should be given to the safety of travel around corner sites during the Site Plan Review process

SECTION §235-16.1.E(5)

E.5 Convenience and safety of vehicular and pedestrian movement within and around the site and ~~of~~ the location of buildings, fences, walls, or other structures, and driveway openings, in relation to traffic and/or adjacent streets.

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

Proposal: Amend General Code to include vegetation height and shift enforcement from Building Inspector to Department of Public Works

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation
- The Director of Public Works may use discretion in determining if existing vegetation creates a safety hazard

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges & any other leafy vegetation are regulated to:
  - Promote driver and pedestrian safety by ensuring no obstructions in the public way
  - Maintain an interesting, pedestrian friendly streetscape

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Hedges can be up to 3 ft tall and leafy vegetation cannot obstruct view within 3 feet of front yards or side yards
- This proposal also limits height following the same 20 ft. measurements for corner lots as Section 235-25.K

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

§ 235-25 Additional dimensional and density provisions.

I. The gross floor area of each one-family detached dwelling and per dwelling unit in a two-family dwelling shall not be less than 768 square feet. The gross floor area in a multifamily dwelling shall not be less than 450 square feet for one-bedroom dwelling units, 600 square feet for two-bedroom units and 768 square feet for three-bedroom or larger units.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

DWELLING UNIT

One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

The Honorable Mayor Brodeur and
The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

Thank you for your consideration. We look forward to discussing these important amendments with you.

Respectfully yours,

Structure Definition

- Retaining walls & fences are often on or close to a property line and it was likely not the intent of the regulation for setbacks to apply
- Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue

In-law Apartment Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 IN-LAW APARTMENT Definition

In-law Apartment Definition

- The definition of in-law apartments is overly restrictive as it prohibits this use in houses that have had additions or alterations after January 1, 1990
- Removing Section F & revising Section G will allow for alterations and additions, while still restricting the size of the unit
- Additions would need to conform to dimensional regulations in the district & a special permit is still required for the use

SECTION 235-5

IN-LAW APARTMENT

~~F. The dwelling unit shall be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990.~~

G. The dwelling unit shall occupy no more than 1/3 of the structure's gross floor area ~~as of January 1, 1990.~~

In-law Apartment Definition

- The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments where all other provisions are met
- This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Pan

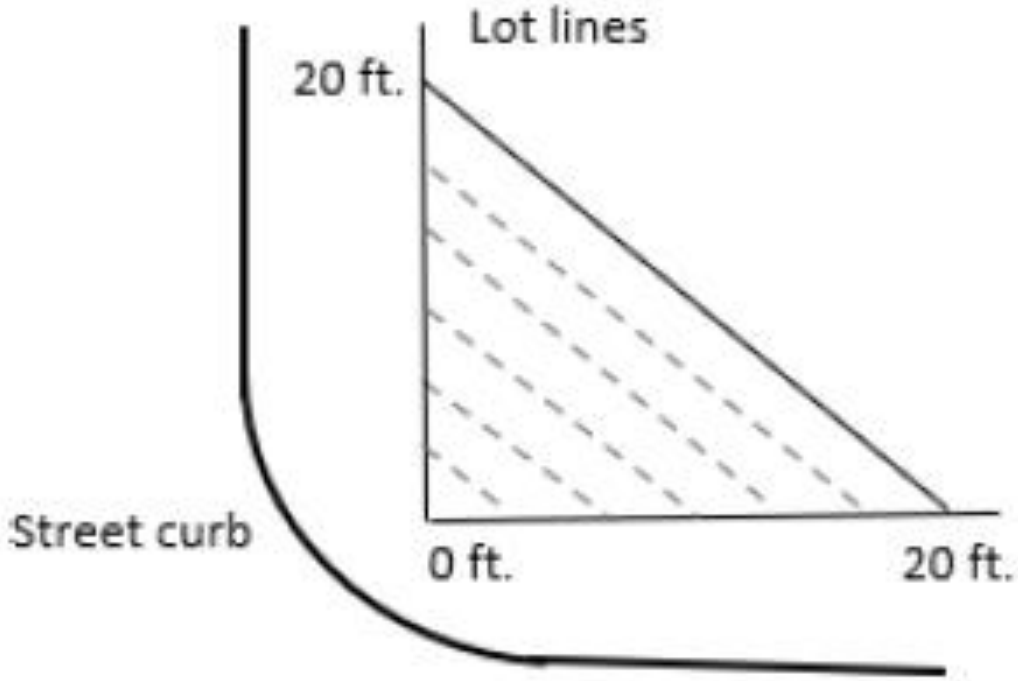
Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.K and 235-25.L



Sight Lines and Fence Height in Front Yard on Corner and Non-Corner Lots

- OPCD has received requests from the public and elected officials to clarify Sections 235-25.K &-25.L of the code which are confusing and easily misinterpreted
- The purpose of these regulations is to ensure visibility and safety by regulating the height of fences and other structures on corner lots and in front yards and to maintain an interesting streetscape

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets

- Vegetation is proposed to be moved from Sections 235-25.K & -25.L of the MZO to the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the DPW, which oversees vegetation maintenance throughout the City
- In removing vegetation from the zoning ordinance, existing vegetation will not be deemed legally nonconforming, allowing for enforcement of new and existing vegetation

Unit Size

Proposal: Amend Section 235-25.I

Unit Size

- The zoning code's restrictions on dwelling unit size prevent the City from complying with DHCD's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities (MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A)
- To comply, zoning cannot restrict the size of residential units
- The proposed amendment removes minimum unit sizes requirements from the code

§ 235-25 Additional dimensional and density provisions.

I. The gross floor area of each one-family detached dwelling and per dwelling unit in a two-family dwelling shall not be less than 768 square feet. The gross floor area in a multifamily dwelling shall not be less than 450 square feet for one-bedroom dwelling units, 600 square feet for two-bedroom units and 768 square feet for three-bedroom or larger units.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Unit Size

There are several mechanisms that will be used to prevent overcrowding (a rare occurrence in Melrose):

- ✓ Health and State Building Code regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls
- ✓ Zoning district regulations controlling the number of units include lot area, FAR, and/or height and setback restrictions
- ✓ Market demand controls unit size

Unit Size

- Eliminating unit size will allow the City to comply with MGL Chapter 40A Section 3A while still regulating density using other zoning provisions
- This will enable the City to have a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, which is a goal of the Housing Production Plan

Housing Goals

MELROSEHPP

1. Housing Mix. Encourage a range of housing options and types to serve households with a variety of incomes and meet the diverse needs of current and future Melrose residents.
2. Racial Equity. Advance racial equity, promote inclusion, encourage wealth creation through housing access for people of color, and enrich the Melrose community through increased diversity.
3. Affordable Housing. Expand and preserve deed-restricted and subsidized Affordable Housing opportunities for low- and moderate-income households, including family households.
4. Enhanced Neighborhoods. Utilize housing as a tool to enhance existing Melrose neighborhoods, balancing development with other community priorities like open space, historic preservation, economic development, walkability, sustainability, and resilience.

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

Proposal: Amend Section 235-5 APARTMENT HOUSE; FAMILY; DWELLING, ONE-FAMILY; DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY; DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY Definitions & Amend Section 235 Attachment 1

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- To comply with DHCD's new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities, the definition of family needs to be amended as zoning cannot limit the number of occupants in a unit
- Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships can be discriminatory and does not address the purposes of zoning
- Biological families can have the same, less, or more of an impact on traffic, parking, overcrowding, etc. than a non-traditional family living together as a household

§ 235-5 Definitions.

FAMILY

An individual or two or more persons related by blood or marriage living together as a single housekeeping unit and includi necessary domestic help, such as nurses or servants, and further including, provided that the dwelling is owner-occupied, n more than three lodgers or roomers taken for hire. A group of individuals (including necessary domestic help, such as nurs or servants, but excluding lodgers or roomers taken for hire) not related by blood or marriage but living together as a sing housekeeping unit may constitute a family. For purposes of controlling residential density, each such group of four individua shall constitute a single family.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- The zoning code already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Unit
- Defining One-family and Two-family Dwelling Units instead of defining Family organizes the code in a more streamlined manner
- The Dwelling Unit definition establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities occupied by people who share use of the space as a single housekeeping unit

§ 235-5 Definitions.

DWELLING, MULTIFAMILY

A building containing three or more dwelling units and including an apartment house, garden apartment house and multifamily dwellings.

DWELLING UNIT

One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Family & Dwelling Unit Definition

- This amendment also strikes the definition of Apartment House from the zoning ordinance, the Table of Use and Parking Regulations, and the definition of Multifamily Dwelling
- The definition of Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete
- The reference to garden apartment house is also eliminated from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling because it is no longer relevant

The Honorable City Council
Of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

Re: Report to City Council on Order 2023-59, Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Various Provisions

To the Members of the City Council:

Pursuant to Massachusetts General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 5, the City Council held a public hearing on the above-reference zoning amendments on March 6, 2023. The proposed amendments were initiated by the Planning Board to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. City Councilors had questions and comments regarding the proposed amendments, which were discussed at the public hearing. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments.

The Planning Board held a public hearing on the above-referenced zoning amendments on March 13, 2023, at the request of the City Council to hold separate hearings. No one from the public appeared to comment or submitted written comments. Members discussed the questions and comments raised by the City Councilors and responded to the feedback as detailed below.

Deed Restrictions for Properties with In-Law Apartments
Members of the City Council questioned if there should be deed restrictions for properties with In-Law Apartments. It was clarified that to establish an In-Law Apartment, Applicants must apply to the Board of Appeals for a special permit. Applicant must record the Board of Appeals' decision at the Registry of Deeds, which would appear during a title search.

In-Law Apartments Special Permits and Variances
Members of the City Council inquired about the volume of requests for variances for In-Law Apartments. Planning Staff determined that there have been 14 applications for In-Law Apartments since 2010, 8 of which required variances from §235-5 Definition of In-Law Apartments Standards F & G. All but one application was approved. The number of requests for In-Law Apartments is, on average, approximately one application per year. The proposed amendment is not expected to increase the volume in any meaningful way.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin Street
Members of the City Council questioned whether a proposal to change the lines of a zoning district should be included in this package of zoning amendments. The Planning Board noted that it is a best practice to have zoning districts follow parcel lines to avoid parcels being split into two different districts. In this instance, the direct abutters on either side of the property are commercial buildings and there are many other commercial and mixed uses in the direct vicinity, so the BA-2 designation for the entire parcel is logical and desirable. Furthermore, although not required by law, the Planning Office mailed notices with information about the amendments to abutters within 300 feet of the subject parcel. No comments from the public were received. The Planning Board continues to recommend including this district line change with the package of zoning amendments.

Translations for Proposed Amendments
The Planning Board discussed a comment by City Councilors regarding the accessibility of the zoning code and if the regulations were available in languages besides English. It was noted that the regulations are hosted on the Ecode360 website where the City Charter and most City Codes can be found. On the Ecode360 website there is a Google Translate tool available. Planning Staff suggested that the City could prepare written guidance for the public on specific provisions such as the updated fence and vegetation regulations and consider how best to offer the information in multiple languages.

Corner Lot Setbacks
Members of the City Council requested that the changes proposed for corner lots be reviewed for public safety. Planning Staff reviewed this amendment with the Police Chief and the Fire Chief and neither official expressed any concern. Both agreed that the recommended amendment is logical and will not create any safety hazards.

Differences Between a Lodging House/Unit and a Dwelling Unit
A member of the City Council inquired about the differences between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units. The Planning Board reviewed the definitions of "Dwelling" and "Dwelling Unit" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- DWELLING: A privately or publicly owned permanent structure, whether owned by one or more persons or in condominium, which is occupied in whole or in part as the home residents or sleeping place of one or more persons. The term 'one-family, two-family or multifamily dwelling' shall not include a hotel, lodging house, hospital, membership club, mobile home or dormitory.
- DWELLING UNIT: One or more living and sleeping rooms providing complete living facilities for the use of one or more individuals constituting a single housekeeping unit, with permanent provisions for living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation.

The definition of "Dwelling" specifically states that lodging houses are disparate from dwellings. Additionally, "Dwelling Units" are constituted by single housekeeping units.

The Planning Board also reviewed the definitions of "Lodging Unit" and "Lodging House" in the Melrose Zoning Ordinance which are defined as follows:

- LODGING UNIT: One or more rooms for the semi-permanent use of one, two or three individuals not living as a single housekeeping unit and not having cooking facilities. 'Lodging unit' shall include rooms in boardinghouses, lodging houses, tourist homes, or rooming houses. It shall not include convalescent, nursing or rest homes; dormitories of charitable, educational or philanthropic institutions; or apartments or hotels.

- LODGING HOUSE: A building containing for or more lodging units.

Residents in "Lodging Units" are not living as single housekeeping units as they would be in a "Dwelling Unit." Additionally, "Lodging Units" do not have cooking facilities whereas "Dwelling Units" must provide complete and permanent living facilities including provisions for cooking. Also, lodging houses require a license from the City Council and are only allowed in a few zoning districts. The Planning Board feels that the Melrose Zoning Ordinance clearly differentiates between lodging houses/units, and dwelling units and does not recommend any further changes.

Replacement of Existing Fences in Accordance with New Regulations
Members of the City Council wondered if property owners would be allowed to replace existing fences in-kind if they do not conform to the new regulations. The Planning Staff consulted with the Building Commissioner on this question. He explained that there are regulations on fence height and setbacks in the current code so fences that do not currently conform may be illegal. Fences that conformed to the old code and not the new code would be considered legally nonconforming and protected; however, if the fence was completely reconstructed it would need to comply with the new code. Repairing sections of a legally pre-existing nonconforming fence would be allowed by-right. The Building Commissioner confirmed that compliance with these regulations is primarily driven by complaints and that the City does not typically receive many fence complaints.

Front Yard Fence Height
A member of the City Council suggested that the proposed 3-foot front yard fence height may be too low for residents with pets. Pets that can jump over a 3-foot fence would either have to be kept in the side or rear yards or restrained by leash or other means. Alternatively, residents could request a variance from the proposed amendment in special cases where a taller front yard fence may be needed. The Planning Board continues to feel that the provision for 3-foot fence height in the front yard is reasonable and benefits the streetscape without limiting the use of pet owners' properties.

Special Permit Timeline
Members of City Council questioned if it is beneficial to increase the special permit timeline to three years. The Planning Board discussed how once projects are approved by the Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, it often takes time to gather and complete all the necessary materials to obtain a building permit. In some cases, extending the special permit timeline may result in the development moving forward more quickly because the Applicant may not have to return for a new hearing due to an expiration of the project's permit.

This proposed amendment does not affect the timelines for variances or site plan approvals. Variances will still expire after one-year if unexercised, with the possibility of a six-month extension if requested prior to expiration. Site plan approvals are valid for two years with the possibility of an extension for good causes with a written request to the Planning Board.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

To summarize, the Planning Board does not recommend making any changes to the package of proposed zoning amendments originally submitted and reviewed during two separate public hearings. The Planning Board finds that the proposed zoning amendments are reasonable, fair and provide clarity. The amendments will create a more user-friendly code that complies with the Massachusetts General Laws and reduces the number of variance requests; this will in turn benefit both the Board of Appeals and residents by alleviating a significant financial and administrative burden. The Planning Board respectfully recommends that the City Council vote in favor of adopting the proposed zoning amendments as submitted and dated January 31, 2023.

If you have any further questions, or we can provide any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact us. We would be pleased to make ourselves available to you as you continue to deliberate on this issue.

Very truly yours,

The Honorable City Council
of the City of Melrose, Massachusetts

RE: Proposed Zoning Amendments

To His Honor and the Members of the Council:

At its meetings on December 19, 2022 and January 23, 2023, the Planning Board voted to submit the attached zoning amendments to the City Council. These proposed changes seek to clarify sections of the code for easier interpretation and understanding, ensure compliance with Massachusetts General Laws, and reduce the number of variance requests for violations that are regularly approved by the Board of Appeals. The purpose and reasoning behind each proposed amendment will be described in detail below.

Corner Lot Setbacks
The purpose of this amendment is to allow properties on corner lots to have similar side yard setback requirements as those properties that are not at the intersection of streets. In the Boards extensive review of corner lot properties, allowing for side yard setback distances on corner lots by Variance has not been detrimental to the streetscape or to the abutting properties. Two yards often function as side yards and allowing for a side yard setback in these locations provides the Owner space to build a structure that is consistent with the use of the yard while not creating negative impacts to the rhythm of buildings on the block.

Structure Definition
The Melrose Zoning Ordinance (MZO) currently defines retaining walls and fences as structures. MZO §235-24.B, Accessory Buildings and Other Structures, requires

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

accessory structures to be governed by regulations for an accessory building unless specifically exempted by a variance. Oftentimes fences and retaining walls are therefore required to have an accessory structure setback from property lines. Since it is a typical condition for a retaining wall or fence to be on or close to a property line, it was likely not the intent of the regulation for accessory structure setback to apply to them. Removing retaining wall and fence from the definition of structure will resolve this issue.

BA-2 Zoning District Line Change at 521-529 Franklin St.
521-529 Franklin Street (parcel B12 058) is split into two zoning districts. The front of the parcel facing Franklin Street is in BA-2, while most of the parking lot to the rear is in UR-A. The property owner requested that the entirety of the lot be brought into BA-2 explaining that refinancing and insuring the property is complicated by the split zoning and the best use of the property is in line with uses permitted in BA-2.

Definition of Retail Food Establishment
This amendment updates the definition of retail food establishment to allow for the sale of alcoholic beverages for off premise consumption, which reflects the recent change in the City's liquor laws.

Definition of In-law Apartment
The definition of in-law apartments in the MZO has been found to be overly restrictive and creates undue hardship for many applicants who wish to create a dwelling unit for a family member in their home or attached to their home. The provision requiring the unit to be located within the single-family dwelling as it existed on January 1, 1990, is limiting and prohibits additions to accommodate in-law apartments. The Board of Appeals has approved variances from this provision on several occasions to permit in-law apartments and allow for this reasonable use where all other provisions are met.

This amendment strikes paragraph F from the definition and modifies paragraph G to address this issue. Removing paragraph F will allow for alterations and additions to existing single-family houses to accommodate in-law apartments. Revising paragraph G would continue to restrict the size of the unit in relation to the existing single-family home; additions would need to conform to the dimensional regulations within the district; and a special permit from the ZBA is still required for all in-law apartment proposals. This amendment is also identified as an action item in the Melrose Forward Master Plan.

Votes for Approval
This amendment updates the MZO to be consistent with recent changes to MGL C.40A (the Zoning Act) and reflect State regulations. Chapter 358 of the Acts of 2020 made several amendments to Chapter 40A, including: (1) changes to section 5 to reduce the number of votes required to enact certain kinds of zoning ordinances and bylaws from a ⅔ supermajority to a simple majority; and (2) changes to section 9 making similar changes to the voting thresholds for the issuance of certain kinds of special permits.

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Changes to the MZO related to Zoning Amendment voting is not needed because the language just references Section 5 of the Zoning Act.

Special Permit Term
This amendment increases the time allowed to exercise a special permit, which reflects another recent change to the Zoning Act. Chapter 219 of the Acts of 2016 increased the timeframe to exercise a special permit from two to three years. Municipalities are not obligated to adopt the longer timeframe, however, increasing the special permit term is more accommodating while conforming to the MGL.

Site Lines and Fence Height in Front Yards On Corner and Non-Corner Lots
The language in Sections 235-25.K and 235.25.L of the Zoning Ordinance is confusing and unclear. The Office of Planning and Community Development has received calls from residents attempting to understand this section of the code, which is easily misinterpreted and difficult to follow. Councilor McMaster also requested that the language in sections §235-25.K & §235-25.L be revised prompting the proposed amendment which provides clearer and more manageable instruction.

Site Plan Review Criteria

Vegetation Height for Corner Lots & in Yards along Streets - General Code Amendment
In amending §235-25.K & §235-25.L, vegetation was removed from these sections and inserted in the General Code shifting enforcement responsibility from the Building Commissioner to the Department of Public Works, which generally oversees vegetation maintenance throughout Melrose. Additionally, with the regulation removed from the zoning ordinance a hedge that exists today will not be deemed legally nonconforming. The general code allows enforcement of existing and new vegetation and discretion is provided to the Director of Public Works to determine if vegetation creates a safety hazard.

Unit Size
The MZO's restrictions on unit size as regulated in §235-25.I prevent the City from complying with the Department of Housing and Community Development's guidelines on the new multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. (See Section 3A of MGL c. 40A, that was part of the 2021 Economic Development Bill.) The regulations require that multi-family housing is suitable for families with children and that zoning cannot restrict the number of bedrooms, the size of bedrooms, or the number of occupants.

The proposed amendment strikes the minimum unit sizes from the zoning ordinance. Residential unit sizes are addressed in the State Sanitary Code, enforced by the Board of

Minutes Acceptance: Minutes of Apr 18, 2023 7:45 PM (Reading of the Minutes)

Health, and the State Building Code, enforced by the Building Commissioner, which regulate minimum dwelling unit and bedroom sizes per occupant and other dimensional controls of residential units. In addition to the aforementioned codes, the City's zoning districts have different mechanisms that directly or indirectly control the size of residential units. Some districts regulate the number of units per lot based on lot area, and all control a building's size through Floor Area Ratio and/or height and setback regulations. Market demand is an additional control over unit size. Two recent developments downtown provide a few studio apartments/microunits of between 360 to 400 square feet in each; however, the market demand is generally for larger units.

By eliminating unit size from the MZO, the City will comply with MGL c. 40A s. 3A while still being able to regulate density using other provisions. In addition to needing to make this change to the Ordinance to comply with the new law, having a variety of housing types in terms of size and cost, is a goal of the City's Housing Production Plan and this change will allow for smaller units, which have been successful in a few recent developments.

Definition of Family & Dwelling Units
The amendment to the definitions of family and dwelling units is also needed to comply with DHCD's guidelines on the new Multi-family zoning requirements for MBTA Communities. It strikes the definition of family and replaces it with definitions for One-Family and Two-Family Dwelling Units. The MZO already defines Dwelling Unit and Multifamily Dwelling Units thereby organizing the code in a more logical and streamlined manner. The definition of dwelling unit establishes the primary intent of a residential unit being a space with complete living facilities (living, sleeping, eating, cooking and sanitation) occupied by people that share the use of that space together as a single housekeeping unit. Restricting occupancy based on biological or legal relationships does not address the purposes of zoning. A biological family can have the same, less, or more of an impact on zoning issues such as traffic, parking, overcrowding, public systems, etc., than a non-tradition family living together as a household. Regulating density through the current definition of family can be discriminatory and illegal in how it is enforced.

This amendment also seeks to strike the definition of Apartment House from the MZO and the Table of Use and Parking Regulations. The definition references family and the Multifamily Dwelling duplicates the apartment house use rendering it obsolete. Lastly, this amendment seeks to eliminate the references to apartment house and garden house from the definition of Multifamily Dwelling, which are repetitive and antiquated.

In accordance with M.G.L., Chapter 40A, Section 5, all proposed zoning amendments received by the City Council shall be submitted to the Planning Board within 14 days for review and to schedule a public hearing. The City Council and the Planning Board are required to hold public hearings within 65 days. The Planning Board would welcome a joint public hearing with the City Council. After the hearing, the Planning Board has 21 days to submit a report with recommendations to the City Council. The City Council

must wait until they receive a report from the Planning Board or wait for 21 days before holding a vote. Please forward the proposed amendments to us at your earliest convenience in order to begin the review process.

ORDER-2023-85 : Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Definition of In-law Apartment

ORDER-2023-90 : Amending Melrose Revised Zoning Ordinance, Chapter 235, Definition of Family & Dwelling Units

I recently attended a seminar in which one of the topics was short term rentals, in-law apartments and accessory dwellings as it relates to code enforcement. I have attached five images to this email which contain additional information. The presenter was a zoning enforcement officer for the City of Watertown.

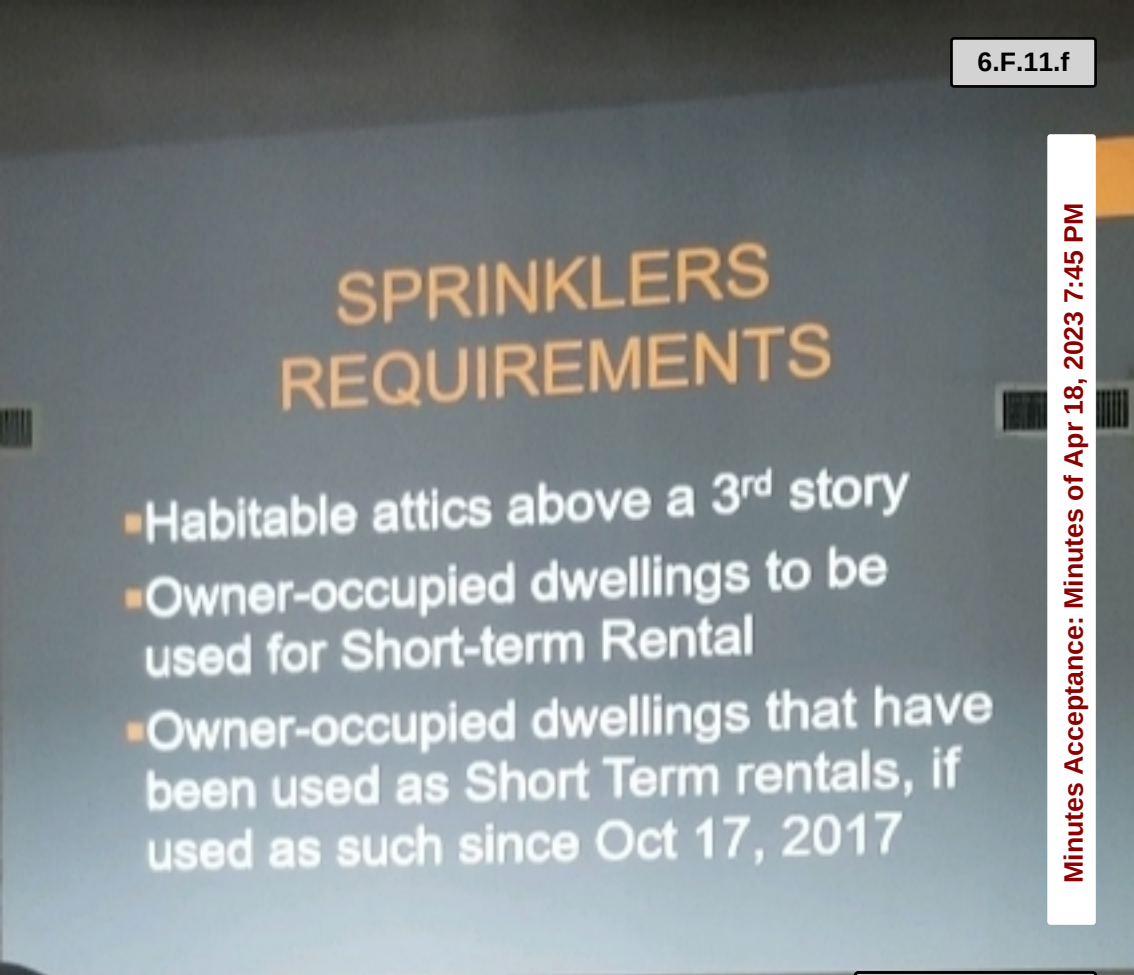
After his presentation, I asked him how the family occupancy requirement is enforced for in-law apartments. His response was that it is impossible to do so. Further, that in-law apartments are frequently used by single family home owners as short term rentals. A quick search on the Airbnb website appears to indicate that this is presently taking place in Melrose.

As you will see in the attached images, Massachusetts Building Code (780 CMR) requires that owner-occupied dwellings that will be used as short term rentals, or that have been used as short term rentals since October 17, 2017, must be sprinkled. I would suggest that we have violators who need to be brought into compliance before the rules are relaxed further.

How are we presently regulating short term rentals in Melrose? I looked on the City's website to see what Inspectional Services had but found nothing. That would seem to indicate that such units are illegal apartments. The Commonwealth allows municipalities to tax short term rentals and, as such, we are missing out an additional revenue stream.

I hope that this information will spark a robust conversation about how our City will address such concerns moving forward. The creation of new code and enforcement of existing will be necessary to ensure that the citizens of this City are best served. I encourage you to include the Building Commissioner in the dialogue.

I watched the last meeting when this was before Appropriations and was distressed by Ms. Gaffey's assertion that the order ought to pass because there had been no public opposition to it. A lack of public participation is not evidence of tacit approval--we elect you to represent us and our best interests. If public opposition is the standard by which you are to approve or reject such measures, here is your public opposition.



Thank you for your consideration and service to our community.

Interests & Experiences

Please tell us about yourself and why you want to serve.

Why are you interested in serving on a board or commission?

My wife and I have lived and raised our 3 children (all of whom attend(ed) the Melrose Public Schools) in Melrose for the past 20 years and use of the City's varied open space resources (both through organized sports and passive recreation) has been a significant part of our lives. I recently stepped down from serving as President of Melrose Youth Soccer for 5 years through this experience have come to understand the importance of the City's open space resources to the physician and emotional development of our children through their involvement in sports at the youth and high school level. I also recognize and appreciate the importance of passive recreational resources and the role the Parks Commission plays in managing and maintaining these resources as well as active recreation facilities related to golf and sports. Thank you for your consideration.

PRODUCT LEAFLET

Electric Vehicle Infrastructure

HVC-C UL depot charging for electric fleets

ABB HVC-C UL Depot Charging systems offer a highly reliable, intelligent and cost-effective solution to charge large EV fleets such as buses, trucks and other commercial vehicles.

HVC Depot Boxes and power cabinets, lined up at a depot site.

A practical solution for busy depots
ABB Heavy Vehicle Charger (HVC) products enable electric buses and trucks to charge at the depot ensuring flexibility and scale for every fleet operation that is transitioning to zero-emission transportation.

Key Benefits
+ Smart charging
+ Small infrastructure footprint at vehicle interface
+ Flexible design for roof and floor mounting
+ SAE J1772 CCS and OCPP 1.6 compliant
+ Remote diagnostics and management tools

Sequential Charging
Improving total cost of ownership is easy using the sequential charging feature offered by ABB's depot chargers. This feature allows connection of up to three depot charge boxes with a single power cabinet and vehicles are charged sequentially over time. The system can follow an embedded, predefined charging process or remote triggers sent by a fleet management system via OCPP 1.6.

- Vehicles are charged with high power, maximizing vehicle availability
- The required grid connection is smaller, reducing upfront investments and operational costs
- The compact depot box is easy to install at sites with space constraints
- Optimal utilization of installed infrastructure meaning lower investments in charging equipment.

Buy America
ABB can offer the HVC-C Depot Charging Solution with compliance to the Buy America Act Rule 49 CFR Part 661.5.

Future-proof modular design
Power cabinets can be upgraded from 100 or 150 kW in the field, as well as add additional depot charge boxes, allowing operators to scale their operation and to spread investments over time.

Safe and reliable operation
ABB fast chargers are designed to the highest international electrical, safety, and quality standards and are certified by notified bodies - guaranteeing safe and reliable operation.

Connectivity and remote services
ABB chargers come with an extensive suite of connectivity features including remote services such as monitoring, management, diagnostics and software upgrades. These advanced services provide equipment owners with powerful insights into their charging operations while enabling high uptime.

ISUZU "NOTES":

FOR the ELITE 6 and ELITE 8...THE ISUZU "N- SERIES" CHASSIS IS "POPLUAR" CHOICE.

ISUZU "ONLY" OFFERS "AFT OF REAR AXLE" FUEL TANK. THIS TANK MUST BE "MOVED"

Aft of rear axle fuel tanks will require fuel tank "move" ... and will be Dealer's responsibility!!

FOR the ELITE 8...THE ISUZU WB = 132.5" IS THE "CORRECT" ISUZU WHEEL BASE ... AND ISUZU's "HORIZONTAL" EXHAUST IS NEEDED.

FOR the ELITE 6...THE ISUZU WB = 132.5" IS THE "WORKABLE" ISUZU WHEEL BASE ... AND EITHER THE "HORIZONTAL" EXHAUST or "VERTICAL" EXHAUST will WORK.

The ELITE 6 "CAN BE" ON ISUZU's WB =109 " BUT THEN "BOTH" THE FUEL TANK AND THE "BATT BOX" NEED RE-LOCATION. THE "HORIZONTAL"'EXHAUST "MUST BE" SPEC'd for ELITE 6 on WB = 109"

LOADMASTER reserves the right to revise product specifications.

This "DATA SHEET" is "informational" only. Consult with your LOADMASTER dealer prior to ordering...for final specifications.

For "CT"...assure Clear & Useable per this info. (If EXHAUST stack is "consuming" space... then "account" for EXHAUST when you are "specing" Chassis.)

Subject: DERA Grant Match Component Free Cash Request

In August 2022, Melrose DPW, working with Sustainability Manager Martha Grover, submitted an application to the Massachusetts Department of Environmental Protection for a Diesel Emissions Reduction Act (DERA) grant. These grants provide up to 45% of the cost of heavy duty electric vehicles and the associated charging infrastructure. In February 2023, we were informed that the City was awarded $268,000 from this grant program. A separate Order requests the acceptance of this grant. This memo describes the associated free cash request to fund the City's portion of the project costs.

We are hereby requesting the allocation of $481,600 of free cash to fund the City's portion of the purchase of one electric refuse truck and the infrastructure upgrades and equipment necessary to have a Level 3 charging station at the DPW City Yard.

Melrose Electric Vehicle First Policy
Shortly after adopting the Melrose Net Zero Action Plan in April 2022, the City put in place an Electric Vehicle First Fleet Policy which requires that we replace our existing fleet vehicles with electric vehicles when it is feasible and cost effective. Melrose receives support for fleet electrification initiatives from National Grid's Fleet Advisory Services Program (FASP) consultants who provide ongoing advice and analysis. In addition, the City coordinates closely with National Grid on infrastructure planning and installations related to electric vehicle charging. Our FASP program partners identified our smaller refuse truck (Truck #18) as cost-effective for replacement with a full electric option. This is a great opportunity for Melrose to lead by example, and we are excited to present this project to the City Council for funding consideration.

Attachment: DERA Grant City Match Free Cash Request Memo [Revision 1] (APPRO-2023-26 : An Appropriation from Free Cash for the City

Electric Refuse Truck
Melrose DPW currently has two diesel refuse trucks – one standard size (Truck #26) and one smaller (approximately 13 yard) truck (#18). The larger Truck #26 is used predominately for seasonal curbside yard waste collection, while Truck #18 is used for collection of the following items:

- Solid waste from approximately 100 barrels on municipal properties, three days/week
- Solid waste from select municipal barrels seasonally on Sunday mornings to divert heavy weekend loads from the barrels
- Residential metal goods on Tuesdays
- School dumpsters on approximately a daily basis
- Residential solid waste from a handful of neighborhoods on dead ends or other streets that are difficult for our contracted vendor to access

After evaluating options, the DPW determined it was most advantageous for the City to replace Truck #18 at this time, given its extensive use for a myriad of services and its need for costly repairs in recent years. Truck #18 is a 2010 International with over 130,000 miles. The DERA grant requires for a vehicle to have three years of useful life remaining and requires for the vehicle to be taken off the road when the replacement EV begins to be used. We are able to achieve both of these requirements with Truck #18.

Attached to this memo are quotes for four different Class 7 (33,000 gross vehicle weight rating) EV trucks with refuse bodies of a comparable size to Truck 18. These quotes range from $452,000 to $498,500. All of the proposed trucks are from known, trusted manufacturers, along with four different refuse bodies. The DPW decided early on that we would only consider companies who have been manufacturing comparable diesel trucks for many years, to ensure that the non-EV parts would be tested and accessible for repairs. The attached four quotes are for the following vehicles:

- Peterbilt EV with a Heil refuse body
- Crane Carrier EV with a Curbtender refuse body
- Crane Carrier EV with a Loadmaster refuse body
- Crane Carrier EV with a NewWay refuse body (most similar to the existing Truck #18 body)

The grant was awarded with the assumption of a $492,000 price for the truck. With the DERA grant covering 45% of the vehicle cost, this equates to $221,400 of grant funding, and a City match component of $270,600 for the truck.

In order to compare pricing, the City obtained a quote to purchase a diesel truck meeting the same specifications. The quote, also attached hereto, is for $298,000. Thus the purchase of the EV considering the grant component results in a savings to the City for the vehicle purchase of $27,400. These savings do not factor in the additional savings of operating an EV rather than paying for gas. Over the last 12 months, Truck #18 has used 1,716 gallons of diesel fuel.

Charging Infrastructure
The original grant submission was based on a cost proposal for Level 3 charging infrastructure for approximately $105,000. It was later determined that the electrical service at the City Yard does not have the capacity for this charging infrastructure and would require an upgrade. The new quote to bring in a new electrical service from the street, and furnish and install both the associated transformer and the Level 3 charging station, is approximately $311,000.

Given the City's EV-first vehicle policy, charging will be required at the City Yard in order to manage an increasing number of EVs. We presently have two EV Ford Focuses, and we have one Ford Lightning pickup truck on order. The two existing EVs charge in an outlet on the front of the Administration Building which only has the capacity to charge one of the two cars at a time. With the future arrival of the Ford Lightning, the need for better charging infrastructure is imminent. This project affords the City the opportunity to take advantage of a combination of the DERA grant and National Grid incentives to install Level 3 charging. The DERA grant portion of the costs is $46,600. National Grid incentives account for another $60,000 per port for the infrastructure to power the charging station and an additional $40,000 per port for the charging station equipment. We are awaiting confirmation from National Grid whether the DERA-funded portion would be subtracted by National Grid before the incentive is provided, which would result in a National Grid incentive of $53,400. This has been assumed herein to arrive at a conservative City match estimate. This leaves a City-funded portion of the charging infrastructure of $211,000.

Note that the charging infrastructure may also be eligible for additional tax credits, which may fund up to 30% of the cost. Furthermore, National Grid has indicated that each additional port would result in another $100,000 of incentive payments. It is possible that the cost of an additional port may be less than $100,000, so we may opt to add ports to bring the total costs down while providing additional benefits. These details would be worked out in the coming months, so the costs shown here are presented to conservatively reflect the high end of the City's share.

Summary
The total project costs are summarized as follows:

	Total Cost	City Portion	DERA Portion	NGRID Incentives
Electric Refuse Truck	$492,000	$270,600	$221,400	N/A
Electrical Service and Charging Infrastructure	$311,000	$211,000	$46,600	$53,400*
Grand Total	$803,000	$481,600	$268,000	$53,400

*Could be $100,000 if National Grid does not subtract out the DERA-funded portion of the charging infrastructure

If the level of conservativism in these estimates ultimately results in cost savings compared to the free cash allocation, any remaining free cash will be put toward additional charging ports.

We respectfully request your consideration of a free cash allocation of $481,600 to allow us to proceed with this important initiative to meet both our current and future fleet electrification and Net Zero goals.

RE: Massachusetts Diesel Emissions Reduction Act (DERA) Electric Solicitation Grant

The Department of Public Works eagerly anticipates the acceptance of the Massachusetts Diesel Emissions Reduction Act (DERA) Electric Solicitation Grant in the amount of $268,084.35. Since being informed of this award, a collaborative effort has been performed to identify a possible Electric Refuse Truck and the proper Charging Infrastructure. Once identified, the City share of this purchase will be requested for consideration and from a proper funding source. There is no financial obligation required to accept this Grant and the City may withdraw our application should it be determined that solutions are not feasible.

With the input from Sustainability Manager Martha Grover, Representatives from National Grid, and electric charging infrastructure providers, the City of Melrose DPW is confident that an electric refuse truck will possess the ability to continue to deliver expected services without compromise. The technology is proven in our environment and will endure the weather conditions typical of our Massachusetts climate. We are also excited to take the necessary steps to improve our infrastructure and to have the ability to evolve with increased electric vehicle charging capabilities.

Timing of this award is especially important as the City recently adopted an EV First Policy and as we move to electrify our fleet and expand our EV Charging Network. Accepting this opportunity is a tremendous next step in our evolution and significantly impacts the directions we may be able to go.

Thank you for your consideration and support of this matter. Feel welcome to contact us with any questions you may have.

RE: 2023 Annual Dog Registration – special license

Dear Ms. Shields:

The city clerk's office received your 2023 application for dog registration for Chuck, Bandit, Yoda and Lucky along with their corresponding rabies certificates. I am writing to inform you of a provision in the General Code of the City of Melrose that you may not be aware of entitled Article II, Dogs § 93-5 Special license required in certain cases (enclosed for reference).

Since you are registering more than 3 dogs to be housed at one premises, this Ordinance requires you to obtain a special license from the City Council. Such license can only be granted after public hearing in front of the City Council, notice of which must be given seven days prior.

The clerk's office will provide the public hearing notice to the newspaper as well as the notice to the dwelling abutters (any premises within 500 feet of your residence). We will subsequently provide you with an invoice for these costs with supporting payment documentation.

It is anticipated that the City Council will review your application for a special license on Monday, May 1, 2023. Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Joanne Perperian

To: Mayor Paul Brodeur

Re: Vote for approval of release of Drainage Easement at 22 Stowecroft Road in Melrose, MA.

Dear Mayor Brodeur,

At the request of the residents of 22 Stowecroft Rd. in Melrose, the DPW recommends the release of a drainage easement on said property. The DPW previously relocated the drainage structures into the public way and has no further use for the easement. There is no financial impact to the City to release the easement and the current residents of 22 Stowecroft Road have signed an agreement with the City and agreed to assume all future liability.

This request is made pursuant to the requirements of state law which require City Council approval to release this easement.

The Engineering Division of the Department of Public Works recommends that the City Council vote to authorize you to release a drainage easement from the property owners located at 22 Stowecroft Road in Melrose as depicted on a plan entitled "Subdivision Plan of Land in Melrose, Mass", dated February 15, 1952, as prepared by A.L. Sargent, Surveyor, recorded as Plan 13064-32 in Book 513, Page 329.

Date: April 10, 2023

I respectfully request the Honorable City Council confirm the appointment of Ellen Cobau, 79 Otis Street, to the Melrose Council on Aging for a three-year term set to expire on the last day of February 2026. Ms. Cobau's appointment replaces that of Nancy Messina, whose term expired on the last day of February 2023.

Ms. Cobau's current capacity as a nurse at Mass General Hospital and previous experience as the public health nurse for the City of Melrose has prepared her to be a natural health and education resource to our community's older adults via her service to the Melrose Council on Aging.

In addition, Ms. Cobau has shown special interest in areas of health and safety of older adults, as made evident in the development of a webinar about preventing falls as well as her strong interest in social determinants of health.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please tell us about yourself and why you want to serve.

Why are you interested in serving on a board or commission?

As a nurse I am very much interested in the social determinants of health. These are the conditions in the environments where people are born, live, work, play, worship and age that affect a wide range of health, functioning, and quality of life outcomes. The Council on Aging (COA), with its mission of connecting older adults with resources to positively impact their lives, is well-poised to make Melrose a good place not just to age in place but to thrive in place!! As a Board Member of COA, I would utilize the depth and breadth of my healthcare experience & knowledge to work with the Board on needs assessment, advocacy, and outreach so all will age well in Melrose. Please consider my application. thank you

Re: Compensation and Classification Study

Date: March 24, 2023

In FY22 the City of Melrose hired a Human Resources Services, Inc. (HRS) to perform a comprehensive classification and compensation study of approximately 70 non-union positions including department heads and staff, which has not been done since 1988. The goal of this initiative was to invest in the City's role as an employer, and modernize and standardize our pay practices for non-union Managers and staff to provide for meaningful progression and promotion while ensuring compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act and the Mass Pay Equity Act.

The study involved updating the job descriptions, classifying positions according to a uniform point analysis standard, surveying the market of comparable municipalities as needed to determine representative rates of compensation, and developing and recommending a new compensation and classification system for the non-union group of positions.

Based on internal and external equity, the study recommended replacing the current multiple non-union plans with one consolidated compensation and classification plan for the non-union positions. The proposed pay plan supports pay equity and hierarchy based on skill and job requirements. It consists of 23 pay grades and ten steps in each grade with minimum and maximum salary and 2% between steps. HRS recommended continuing the policy on pay steps for easier maintenance and consistency of the plan. The pay ranges targeted the 75th percentile of market, which was necessary in order to remain competitive as compared to other municipalities in Massachusetts.

Attachment: Comp and Class Funding Order 03242023 (APPRO-2023-19 : Non-Union salary adjustment for FY23 HRS compensation study)

This is a base salary plan and does not include compensation for stipends, cost-of living, benefits, or other compensation. For initial placement of employees within the plan, the City used the approach of placing at the step closest to but just above their current wage in order to not reduce the pay of any current employee. For employees whose salary was below the minimum of the pay range efforts were made to bring it into the range. To maintain fairness, it was recommended that should an employee salary fall above the upper limit of the range the City should maintain that salary and not reduce it.

The proposed pay structure is designed to provide appropriate compensation through the next three fiscal years. As position duties and responsibilities change over time or as new positions emerge, the consultant has furnished a tool to evaluate and measure the position against a common set of criteria in a systematic and objective manner to rank the job in the appropriate grade of the compensation structure.

In order to ensure that pay levels remain equitable and competitive the City was advised to maintain the current plan by applying cost-of-living increase across the entire compensation structure periodically, as determined by the administration, or the new compensation structure will become outdated, and the City will have difficulty recruiting talent, as we have witnessed in the past.

Therefore, we are requesting an appropriation in the amount of $167,310 (One Hundred Sixty-Seven thousand, three hundred and ten dollars) to fund a one-time salary adjustment for FY23 as recommended by the HRS compensation study. The requested appropriation is from the following accounts $159,784 from Free Cash (01-324001), $3,763 from Sewer Retained Earnings (6000-319000), $3,763 from Water – Retained Earnings (6100-319000) to various salary and wage lines as set forth herein.

Re: New Order for funding of the HRS Compensation Study

Date: March 27, 2023

I have been asked to provide this memorandum in regards to the expected submission of a new Order by your office requesting City Council to fund the HRS compensation study. Mainly, you have requested that I provide an opinion as to whether or not such a new request is legally valid and may be considered by City Council at this juncture in light of City Council's previous vote defeating a similar Order on February 6, 2023.

By way of background, previous Order 2023-29 relative to funding the HRS compensation study first appeared on the City Council Agenda at Council's October 17, 2022 meeting. Said Order from your office requested as follows:

> "An Appropriation in the amount of $167,310 (One Hundred Sixty-Seven thousand, three hundred and ten dollars) to fund the HRS compensation study. The requested appropriation is from the following accounts $159,784 from the Contract Stabilization fund (84042-590000), $3,763 from Sewer, Reserve for Retained Earnings (84152-590000) and $3,763 from Water, Reserve for Retained Earnings (84162-590000) to various salary and wage lines as set forth herein."

This Order was then subsequently discussed in the Appropriations and Oversight Committee on November 7, 2022. It was then recommitted to Committee by City Council on December 19, 2022. On February 6, 2023 City Council took a full vote on this Order and the Order was defeated.

In my opinion, a new Order embodying substantially the same subject as Order 2023-29 can be legally submitted to Council at this time for their consideration.

While City Council's Rules of Order do not allow for "any committee or member" of Council itself to introduce such an item within six months of its previous rejection, there is no rule barring the Mayor from requesting consideration of such an item. [1]

Furthermore, if there were such a rule that restricted your ability to make a communication or filing to Council based on the content/subject matter of a given Order, in my opinion this would be violative of your authority under the City Charter. Specifically, Section 3-6(a) of the Melrose City Charter gives you the clear authority to recommend to City Council for its consideration the passage of such measures as in your judgment the needs of the City so require.

Please do not hesitate to reach out to me directly with any questions or concerns in this regard.

MEMORANDUM

From: Mayor Paul Brodeur
Re: Implementation of Compensation Plan in FY23
Date: April 3, 2023

As you are aware, last fall I requested an appropriation from the Contract and Wage Stabilization Fund to allow the City to implement the results of the City's recent compensation study. Although periodic review and adjustment of compensation plans is a standard best practice for municipalities in Massachusetts, until last year Melrose had not done such a study in several decades. Our external compensation study, which was funded by the City Council, resulted in a recommendation of $167,310 in one-time salary adjustments for FY23 order to ensure that our pay levels remain equitable and competitive.

At this time, I am requesting that the City Council consider an appropriation from Free Cash to fund implementation of this plan. I understand there was reluctance to increase any employee pay until the teacher and paraprofessional contracts were settled. Those contracts have been settled, as have DPW, crossing guards, police patrol officers, and police superior officers (tentative agreement). There are currently no collective bargaining units out of contract. It is now time to adjust the salaries of our non-union staff, and I would like to provide some further information on why this remains an important priority.

First and foremost, the City's non-union employees are entitled to the same fairness and equity in pay that we provide for all other City employees. While the City is under no legal obligation to implement the study, the study does indicate that we are out-of-market with respect to many positions, and our employees deserve competitive salaries.

In this challenging labor market, when municipalities across the Commonwealth are experiencing extreme difficulties in recruiting and retaining qualified candidates, we simply cannot afford to lose experienced staff through attrition because our pay rates are not competitive. This is certainly true of the positions that were included in the study, many of which are unique and require specific experience, advanced degrees, and specialized knowledge. Staff turnover in these roles causes disruptions in workflow of critical projects and incurs the financial costs of recruiting and onboarding of new employees. Loss of both institutional knowledge and workplace continuity also affects employee morale.

Taking into account the feedback provided by the Council, CFO Dello Russo will be building the compensation plan into our Fiscal Year 2024 operating budget. This, however, still leaves the matter of our non-union employees' pay adjustments in Fiscal Year 2023 (retroactive to July 1, 2022) on the table. It is not good budget practice to fund a current year operating expense in a subsequent year, so we wish to avoid the situation where the Fiscal Year 2024 budget is artificially increased in order to meet this one-time cost. We are therefore requesting that the City

Attachment: Comp and Class implementation memo to City Council (APPRO-2023-19 : Non-Union salary adjustment for FY23 HRS

Council appropriate these funds from Free Cash to make our employees whole for Fiscal Year 2023.

Not taking action to implement the compensation plan puts us even further behind our peer communities. It risks our employee's losing faith in the process with which they cooperated, and which was intended to create greater trust in the equity of their pay relative to their peers and to the regional labor market. I urge the Council to take this opportunity to fund the compensation increases recommended in the study.

Re: Free Cash Appropriation Considerations for the remainder of the Fiscal Year.

As the CFO/City Auditor, I submit this summary of Financial Management Strategies for the remainder of the Free Cash available for the remainder of the fiscal year. To-date: $3,423,471.07 is available of the $7,159,906 Certified.

Part I.

Reserves/Stabilization Funds & Management ($950,000)

The City of Melrose has established a number of Financially Strategic Stabilization Funds, with a collective balance just under $7.5 million dollars. This provides assurance to the community that we can meet a negative downturn in the economy or unanticipated costs, which could disrupt the delivery of services and negatively impact our operating budget at any given time within a fiscal year. There is "tremendous value here" in our collective decision to safeguard the assets of the community through the establishment of these funds. There is no greater priority from a financial perspective.

1. We have developed a "Foundation Stabilization Fund" # 8401, with a balance just under $3.9 million dollars. The request before you is to add the sum of $50,000 thousand dollars to this fund for a total of close to $3,95 million dollars. The City's goal is to have the Fund equate to 5% of the operating budget. In Fiscal 2023 that amount would be just over $4.7 million dollars. If approved, this would be a positive move in our efforts to reach that goal. The Massachusetts Municipal Association "best practice" includes adopting reserve funding targets of 5% or more based on the specifics of the municipal budget and consideration of spending and revenue risks. There is also a standing City Council Ordinance (Section 48-5) that speaks to the funding of the Stabilization Fund annually. We have also budgeted $50,000 to go into this fund as part of the standard annual operating budget request.

2. We have established a "Contract Stabilization Fund" #8404, with a balance of just over $882,000 thousand dollars. The request before you is to add the sum of $450,000 thousand dollars to this fund in order to insure that the city can fund negotiated collective bargaining agreements when settled, and non – union compensation obligations for example. This includes any retroactive payments relative to the respective contracts and non-union salary adjustments. To date, going into FY2024, the Fire Union is out of contract as of June 30, 2023. The target balance for this fund is $1.3 million dollars.

3. We have established a Capital Stabilization Fund # 8405, with a balance of just over $472,000 thousand dollars, and we seeking $100,000 dollars at this time as it mirrors our targeted amount of $550,000 at this time. Capital purchases in excess of $25,000 thousand dollars are funded from this source. This enables the city to add flexibility in addressing its' capital needs (pay as you go financing) for items that are not advantageous to issue debt on (departmental equipment, for example) and may be needed at any time during a fiscal year.

4. We have established a Suits and Claims Stabilization Fund # 8406, with a balance of over $496,378 thousand dollars. The city uses this fund to address costs associated with legal claims and suits that arise throughout the fiscal year. We are not seeking any funding at this time as it meets our target amount of $500,000 thousand dollars.

5. We have established a "Special Education Stabilization Fund" #8408, which is used to fund special education costs realized by the School Department that exceed its budgeted funds. We are requesting you to add $250,000 thousand dollars to this fund at this time. We currently have just over $502,000 thousand dollars in this fund. Our new target allocation is a standing balance of $750,000 thousand dollars given the increases in costs we are realizing.

Attachment: PDR-Freecashmemo (APPRO-2023-19 : Non-Union salary adjustment for FY23 HRS compensation study)

6. We have established a Statutory Fund under Chapter 32b, Section 20; called the "OPEB Fund" #8407, (Other Post Employment Benefits), with a balance of just over $1,038,000 thousand dollars. We are requesting the sum of $50,000 thousand dollars be added to this fund. The continued funding of this significant liability plays a "key" role in the determination of our Bond Rating by Standard and Poor's Rating Agency (please see most recent S & P report dated September 15, 2020). We have also incorporated a request for $50,000 thousand dollars as part of the standard annual operating budget request.

7. We have established an "OSHA" Fund # 8409, (Occupational Safety and Health Administration), stabilization fund with a current balance of over $204,000 thousand dollars. We are requesting the sum of $50,000 thousand dollars be added to this fund which would bring the balance to just over $250,000 thousand dollars. The City's target amount for this fund is $250,000 thousand dollars.

Part II.

Project/Program and Cost considerations ($1,158,893.48):

1. School Department Curriculum Program - $169,959.48
2. School Department Master Plan - $125,000
3. HRS Nonunion compensation plan funding - $159,784
4. DPW Tree Planting Program - $84,150
5. Radar Speed Signs and Traffic Study - $50,000
6. IT Investments in City/School Technology - $200,000
7. Accessibility and Adaptive Equipment Projects - $100,000
8. Medicare - $40,000
9. City Solicitor Liability Insurance Program - $30,000
10. HR Department - Workers Compensation - $150,000
11. Cemetery Department - $50,000

Attachment: PDR-Freecashmemo (APPRO-2023-19 : Non-Union salary adjustment for FY23 HRS compensation study)

Part III.

Open Items and Cost Considerations ($1,314,577.59):

1. Public Safety Overtime - $300,000
2. Snow & Ice Funding Contingency - $1,014,577.59

Summary Observations

Balance Information:

Part I. $ 950,000.00

Part II. $ 1,158,893.48

Part III. $ 1,314,577.59

Total: $ 3,423,471.07

In closing, it is always our intent to seek transfers to offset budgetary items that need supplemental funding such as Medicare for example, in lieu of using Free Cash Funds. The amounts represented here are estimates until a formal request is made from the Mayor to the City Council for funding. Supplemental items may be introduced, and some items may be changed in dollar scope as well as more information becomes available. In the event we do not have to use the Snow and Ice Funding Contingency, the Mayor will make an additional funding request to present to the City Council prior to the fiscal year end. The objective of this memorandum is to simply provide you with some perspective on items under consideration by the Office of the Mayor.

Re: Free Cash Appropriation Considerations for the remainder of the Fiscal Year.

As the CFO/City Auditor, I submit this summary of Financial Management Strategies for the remainder of the Free Cash available for the remainder of the fiscal year. To-date: $3,423,471.07 is available of the $7,159,906 Certified.

Part I.

Reserves/Stabilization Funds & Management ($950,000)

The City of Melrose has established a number of Financially Strategic Stabilization Funds, with a collective balance just under $7.5 million dollars. This provides assurance to the community that we can meet a negative downturn in the economy or unanticipated costs, which could disrupt the delivery of services and negatively impact our operating budget at any given time within a fiscal year. There is "tremendous value here" in our collective decision to safeguard the assets of the community through the establishment of these funds. There is no greater priority from a financial perspective.

1. We have developed a "Foundation Stabilization Fund" # 8401, with a balance just under $3.9 million dollars. The request before you is to add the sum of $50,000 thousand dollars to this fund for a total of close to $3,95 million dollars. The City's goal is to have the Fund equate to 5% of the operating budget. In Fiscal 2023 that amount would be just over $4.7 million dollars. If approved, this would be a positive move in our efforts to reach that goal. The Massachusetts Municipal Association "best practice" includes adopting reserve funding targets of 5% or more based on the specifics of the municipal budget and consideration of spending and revenue risks. There is also a standing City Council Ordinance (Section 48-5) that speaks to the funding of the Stabilization Fund annually. We have also budgeted $50,000 to go into this fund as part of the standard annual operating budget request.

2. We have established a "Contract Stabilization Fund" #8404, with a balance of just over $882,000 thousand dollars. The request before you is to add the sum of $450,000 thousand dollars to this fund in order to insure that the city can fund negotiated collective bargaining agreements when settled, and non – union compensation obligations for example. This includes any retroactive payments relative to the respective contracts and non-union salary adjustments. To date, going into FY2024, the Fire Union is out of contract as of June 30, 2023. The target balance for this fund is $1.3 million dollars.

3. We have established a Capital Stabilization Fund # 8405, with a balance of just over $472,000 thousand dollars, and we seeking $100,000 dollars at this time as it mirrors our targeted amount of $550,000 at this time. Capital purchases in excess of $25,000 thousand dollars are funded from this source. This enables the city to add flexibility in addressing its' capital needs (pay as you go financing) for items that are not advantageous to issue debt on (departmental equipment, for example) and may be needed at any time during a fiscal year.

4. We have established a Suits and Claims Stabilization Fund # 8406, with a balance of over $496,378 thousand dollars. The city uses this fund to address costs associated with legal claims and suits that arise throughout the fiscal year. We are not seeking any funding at this time as it meets our target amount of $500,000 thousand dollars.

5. We have established a "Special Education Stabilization Fund" #8408, which is used to fund special education costs realized by the School Department that exceed its budgeted funds. We are requesting you to add $250,000 thousand dollars to this fund at this time. We currently have just over $502,000 thousand dollars in this fund. Our new target allocation is a standing balance of $750,000 thousand dollars given the increases in costs we are realizing.

Attachment: PDR-Freecashmemo (APPRO-2023-20 : An Appropriation from Free Cash to the School Department for Purchase of Curriculum.)

6. We have established a Statutory Fund under Chapter 32b, Section 20; called the "OPEB Fund" #8407, (Other Post Employment Benefits), with a balance of just over $1,038,000 thousand dollars. We are requesting the sum of $50,000 thousand dollars be added to this fund. The continued funding of this significant liability plays a "key" role in the determination of our Bond Rating by Standard and Poor's Rating Agency (please see most recent S & P report dated September 15, 2020). We have also incorporated a request for $50,000 thousand dollars as part of the standard annual operating budget request.

7. We have established an "OSHA" Fund # 8409, (Occupational Safety and Health Administration), stabilization fund with a current balance of over $204,000 thousand dollars. We are requesting the sum of $50,000 thousand dollars be added to this fund which would bring the balance to just over $250,000 thousand dollars. The City's target amount for this fund is $250,000 thousand dollars.

Part II.

Project/Program and Cost considerations ($1,158,893.48):

1. School Department Curriculum Program - $169,959.48
2. School Department Master Plan - $125,000
3. HRS Nonunion compensation plan funding - $159,784
4. DPW Tree Planting Program - $84,150
5. Radar Speed Signs and Traffic Study - $50,000
6. IT Investments in City/School Technology - $200,000
7. Accessibility and Adaptive Equipment Projects - $100,000
8. Medicare - $40,000
9. City Solicitor Liability Insurance Program - $30,000
10. HR Department - Workers Compensation - $150,000
11. Cemetery Department - $50,000

Attachment: PDR-Freecashmemo (APPRO-2023-20 : An Appropriation from Free Cash to the School Department for Purchase of Curriculum.)

Part III.

Open Items and Cost Considerations ($1,314,577.59):

1. Public Safety Overtime - $300,000
2. Snow & Ice Funding Contingency - $1,014,577.59

Summary Observations

Balance Information:

Part I. $ 950,000.00

Part II. $ 1,158,893.48

Part III. $ 1,314,577.59

Total: $ 3,423,471.07

In closing, it is always our intent to seek transfers to offset budgetary items that need supplemental funding such as Medicare for example, in lieu of using Free Cash Funds. The amounts represented here are estimates until a formal request is made from the Mayor to the City Council for funding. Supplemental items may be introduced, and some items may be changed in dollar scope as well as more information becomes available. In the event we do not have to use the Snow and Ice Funding Contingency, the Mayor will make an additional funding request to present to the City Council prior to the fiscal year end. The objective of this memorandum is to simply provide you with some perspective on items under consideration by the Office of the Mayor.

📚 MyView Implementation Report - March 24, 2023

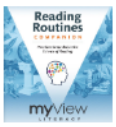
Summary

What follows is a high level overview of this year's Savvas MyView implementation thus far. While we are still learning about the program, overall, we are seeing success both with the use of the materials themselves and with the progress that students are making as evidenced by recent data team meetings and benchmark assessments.

In grades K-3 nonsense reading fluency, from the fall administration of the assessment to the winter, the percentage of students meeting or exceeding grade level benchmarks (Tier 1) increased from 63.82% to 87.57%, while the percentage of students at risk (Tier 3) decreased from 11.3% to 2.81%. These results indicate that the majority of students are able to decode grade level words based on phonics patterns. Daily phonics instruction is a routine part of the MyView literacy program in all grades. This data suggests that the repeated daily routine is supporting the growth in DIBELS nonsense-word fluency, words read correctly assessment.

In grades 1-5 in oral reading fluency, from the fall administration of the assessment to the winter, the percentage of students meeting or exceeding grade level benchmarks (Tier 1) increased from 75.55% to 89.07%. While the percentage of students at risk (Tier 3) decreased from 13.21% to 5.31%. Daily instruction using the MyView Literacy program supports oral reading fluency in multiple ways. Students are able to hear modeled fluent reading frequently from their teacher and then are given opportunities to practice reading with a partner.

Materials Status



From late summer into early fall there were significant challenges with the receipt of materials. We were notified that subcontractors had been hired to package and ship materials from the warehouse and reliability was not consistent. We received boxes with packing slips that did not match what was inside, we were sent materials from another program, and we even received a shipment that was labeled to be sent to a school in Florida. Frustration was at an all time high as the school year began and many student consumables still had not arrived. As quickly as possible we instituted work-arounds, including photocopying consumable materials with permission from the publisher, and using hardcover consumables while we awaited the paperback style workbooks. By mid-October, all materials had finally arrived and in most classrooms, implementation was underway with fidelity. Here is a cataloged list of what we have received for each classroom space:

Professional Development

Thus far this year, Savvas has been on site for summer PD for staff and virtual during curriculum meeting times. After a couple of earlier sessions that did not meet our needs, we pulled our full day PD on November 8th in house and the PD was led by MaryAnn Barriss, Sue Jones and Mel Acevedo. We then attended a user group meeting and raised our concerns to the Head of PD at Savvas. Following that meeting, we had multiple sessions scheduled in order to collaboratively design future curriculum meeting sessions. There were subsequently two sessions that addressed the writing component of the MyView curriculum and one session where staff could choose between the following presentations: Project-Based Inquiry in MyView, Small Group Resources in MyView or Foundational Skills, The Science of Reading in MyView.

Future Professional Development Offerings

Our next PD opportunity will include on site embedded days where Savvas trainers will engage in model lessons, provide planning support, and work directly with our instructional coaches. In addition, two neighboring districts - North Reading and Arlington - have reached out to us to come and observe lessons in action. This speaks to our teachers' commitment to implementation with fidelity and I am excited we will be able to offer our support as other districts navigate their curriculum journey. We have also been asked to star in some Savvas training videos!

Long Term Visioning

In addition to continued, targeted PD, observations and support through the instructional coaches, and an expansion of the use of the materials to include all supporting elements as well as the project based inquiry in each unit, we also look forward to drawing more explicit cross curricular connections. Many of the anchor texts are non-fiction and often in the realm of science or social studies. We hope to therefore work with our 6-12 directors of science and social studies on how to best capitalize on those connections and grow more robust science and social studies lessons that are tied to the literacy anchor for the unit. In addition, our Literacy Task Force will be well underway as we enter the FY24 school year, and reviewing the components of the MyView program - through a records review and classroom observations - will be a high priority on their list of tasks.

Subject: Water and Sewer Enterprise Funds – Free Cash Request2

The City has recently opened bids for two important contracts for capital improvements in our water and sewer systems. For each of these contracts, we are requesting a free cash appropriation to allow us to sign the contracts for the full amount of the bids, including all additive alternates. The details are described below.

2023 Water Main Improvement Contract
Each year, the DPW Engineering Division bids and oversees a water main replacement project. This project is part of our "Multi-year Roadway and Utility Replacement Program" and typically focuses on streets where we have water main replacement needs along with roadway improvement needs. As part of this program, we also have National Grid replace any cast iron gas mains and services with plastic.

At this time, we are ready to perform water main replacement on the following streets that National Grid has either completed or is in the process of completing:

1. Trenton Street at the triangle with Washington Street, to replace a small section of substandard (2") water main with significant pressure problems
2. Nowell Road, and Henry Ave. from Highland to Nowell
3. Henry Ave. from Richardson Road to Nowell
4. Reading Hill Ave.
5. Sewall Woods Road

Attachment: Water and Sewer Request Spring 2023 (APPRO-2023-22 : Appropriation from Water and Sewer Enterprise Fund Retained Earnings)

Based on construction cost estimates and available funds, we determined that we could perform items #1 and #2 from this list as our "base bid" for our 2023 Water Main Improvements Project. Given construction market uncertainty, we bid #3 and #4 as "additive alternates." We concluded that item #5 would need to be bid during the 2024 construction season, as it exceeded all possible funding sources. The low bidder's prices were as follows:

Base Bid (Items #1 and #2): $757,626.90
Add Alternate A (Item #3): $164,479.05
Add Alternate B (Item #4): $344,438.35

We are hereby requesting $440,000 of retained earnings from the Water Enterprise Fund to supplement our MWRA loans and applicable operating budget line items, to allow us to award the complete contract to construct items #1 through #4 during the 2023 construction season. Nowell Road and Reading Hill Avenue, in particular, have been ranked in "poor" roadway condition for several years, and we do not want to delay our ability to pave these roads in 2024. This supplemental funding will allow us to complete these projects and prepare these roadways for paving next construction season.

Sewer Pump Station Generators
In FY22, the City Council approved $400K of retained earnings to design and construct backup power generators at the Upham and Fellsway Sewer Pump Stations, which are the largest two sewer pump stations in Melrose. These stations do not presently have functioning backup power. We hired BETA Group to design the stations at a cost of $82,950, which includes construction administration.

Given that the generator installation would involve significant site disruption, we included additive alternates to replace the fencing at both stations at the completion of construction and to perform final landscaping to screen the generators. There are economies of scale in performing this work simultaneously with the generator project.

We recently opened bids, and the low bid was as follows:

Base Bid (generators and appurtenances): $416,750
Add Alternate A (fencing at Fellsway station): $33,000
Add Alternate B (fencing at Upham Station): $58,850
Add Alternate C (landscaping/screening): $10,000

Our recommendation is to complete the entire scope, including Add Alternates A, B, and C. The total cost of the project, including design and construction administration, is $601,550. In order to carry a construction contingency of approximately 5%, we are hereby requesting $230,000 from retained earnings in the Sewer Enterprise Fund.

We respectfully request your consideration of both of these retained earnings allocations. Thank you.

Re: FY2023 Free Cash Appropriation for Franklin School Window Replacement

In collaboration with the City of Melrose School Department, the Department of Public Works requests your consideration for an appropriation of $300,000.

The window bays at the Franklin School have long exceeded their useful life. In April 2023, Phase I of the window replacement will take place and address the most critical of conditions. The selected contractor will perform the work over the April vacation week and while the school is vacant. Phase II is planned to take place over the summer break and will address 5 bays (10 windows). Plans to accommodate the summer programs are already under consideration in anticipation of this critical project. The remaining windows at the school will continue to be part of our Capital Improvement Plan for future capital funding.

The full scope of the work includes the replacement of 5 bays (10 windows), industry testing (heat, water, air, structural), and required masonry in the general area of the windows. The scope also includes an allowance for additional work that may be required and for conditions that are currently unforeseen. The selected vendor performs this work under the State TRD01 Contract. The project schedule considers current industry lead times for materials and ensures completion of this project ahead of the 2023-34 School Year.

Thank you very much for your consideration on this project and this much needed investment in our School Buildings.

Feel welcome to contact us with any further questions.

Re: Acceptance of Massachusetts Cultural Council Grants

Date: April 5, 2023

On behalf of Mayor Brodeur, I am pleased to present the Honorable City Council with a request to accept funding from the Massachusetts Cultural Council (MCC) in the form of two grants, both in the amount of $2,500.

These two grants are being awarded for the City of Melrose's Dance for Community, held on October 8, 2022 and the Melrose Community Iftar Celebration, scheduled for April 8, 2023.

Both grants come from the MCC's FY23 Festivals Program which began accepting applications on October 22, 2022 for activities made available to the public between July 1, 2022, and June 30, 2023. 100% of the funds will be disbursed to the City upon receipt of the signed MCC Standard Contract Forms for each grant. There is no match required.

Dance for Community Event Summary:
The family-friendly event, initiated by the Melrose Human Rights Commission and the Mayor's DEI Advisory Task Force, was held on Saturday, October 8, from 2 p.m.—5 p.m. in front of City Hall on Essex Street. The event centered around community re-unification and featured local artists, food, and free community dance lessons by Melrose resident Jen Earls, founder of Dance for Humanity. Dance for Humanity is an organization based around community-building through dance, with a mission of helping people connect with themselves, each other and the land for greater health, happiness, and wellbeing.

5th Annual Community Iftar Celebration Summary:
The Melrose Human Rights Commission's Annual Community Iftar Celebration brings residents this annual program in honor of Ramadan and Islamic traditions. Iftar is the traditional fast-breaking meal eaten at sunset during Ramadan.

I respectfully request acceptance of these two grants.

Thank you for your consideration.
